Officials Demand Intensive Probe Of Cincy Airport

CINCINNATI (AP)—High-level officials, some questioning safety factors at Greater Cincinnati Airport, have called for intensive investigations following a crash which claimed 66 lives.

Heading the list are Kentucky Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, Ohio Aviation Director Norman Crabtree, and U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati.

The airport, 15 miles from here and across the Ohio River in Boone County, Ky., has had four crashes since 1961—the latest Monday night when a Trans World Airlines jet carrying 82 persons plunged into a hillside and exploded.

Two years ago this month an American Airlines jet crash claimed 58 lives. A big charter plane crashed into a hill in 1961, but everyone aboard escaped. Only two weeks ago, a TWA jet passenger plane crashed as the pilot aborted a takeoff.

A federal investigator reported Tuesday night that part of the airport's Instrument Landing System (ILS) was not operating during Monday night's crash. He added, however, it was probably not a factor in the tragedy.

Gov. Breathitt, from his office at Frankfort, Ky., said he had asked the Kentucky Department of Aeronautics to make its own investigation.

"I also feel that a thorough probe of the circumstances surrounding all three, the most recent plane crashes that have occurred during the past two years is needed to determine if the causes are connected," the governor said.

Taft said Tuesday he is asking several federal agencies "for the fullest investigation of airport operations and reports on the recent disaster and near disaster."

Crabtree, who wants a congressional investigation, said "Serious questions" are raised as to the safety factors involved.

Ed Slattery, spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board investigating team here said the part of the ILS service out of operation was a glide slope which tells an incoming pilot whether his plane is approaching the runway at proper angle and altitude.

Paulding Holdup Car Is Located

PAULDING, Ohio (AP)—Authorities here learned late Tuesday that a car matching the description was abandoned near a school Tuesday night. The license plates had been removed.

The Oakwood Deposit Bank was robbed by a gunman Tuesday. Police said the robber escaped in a late model maroon car. It eluded several road blocks in western Ohio.

Police at New Haven, Ind., about four miles from Fort Wayne, said a car matching the description was abandoned near a school Tuesday night. The license plates had been removed.

Charges have been lodged against both subjects in Circleville Municipal Court. Bond has been set at $3,500 on each man.

Senate Nears Record Social Security Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, after padding proposed record Social Security benefit boosts, faces a vote on a bill that would increase cash payments to 24 million Americans on the system's rolls by 15 to 59 per cent.

The biggest increase in the bill's cost Tuesday came with the 50-23 adoption of an amendment by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., to raise to $2,400 the amount a retired person can earn in a year and not lose any Social Security benefits. The present limit is $1,500 and the Finance Committee wanted to hike it to $2,000.

Push Mideast Vote in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Western powers pushed for a quick vote today on rival Middle East peace plans amid predictions that Britain's resolution would win overwhelming approval despite a late Soviet entry.

The British plan, submitted last week, was expected to poll at least 12 of the 15 council votes.

Informed sources said the Russians would vote for the British plan or abstain. They discounted the possibility of a Soviet veto.

The United States was expected to withdraw its resolution in favor of Britain's. U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said earlier his government strongly endorses the British draft and would give full diplomatic and political support to the special U.N. representative it would send to the Middle East.

As the council neared a vote, Israeli and Jordanian forces duelled across the Jordan River Tuesday for the fourth straight day and Israel sent its air force into action. It was the heaviest fighting and the first use of Israeli planes along the Israeli-Jordanian cease-fire line since the June war.

Building Code Introduced by City Council

City of Circleville is on its way to adopting a uniform building code.

The code was presented in the form of an ordinance Tuesday night to City Council, but was held to a first reading. It was one of eight ordinances on the council floor. Six were passed under a suspension of the rules.

A council committee, along with legal representatives, patterned the code after the official building code of Hamilton County. Weeks of preparation and modifying the code for Circleville were necessary prior to introduction of legislation last night.

Purpose of the code is to "provide basic and uniform regulations for the safety, health and welfare of the occupants and users of buildings and the general public, and structures, their service equipment and their accessory structures and making adequate performance the test of acceptability."

AFTER two more readings and if the code is adopted, it

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Police surrounded a home near Blanchester Tuesday and four young men who had escaped from a jail at Elizabethtown, Ky., gave themselves up.

The men walked out of the house after the mother of one of them persuaded them to surrender.

Police identified the men as Roland G. Dipong, 23, Blanchester; Merrell Hampton, 20, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Ronald Pavlinski 20, Bethlehem, Pa.; and Thomas L. Lyons 28, Racine, Wis.

The men were found at the home of Mrs. L. C. Conn, mother of Dipong. They left the house with their hands held in the air.

Police said the men apparently fled the jail early last Saturday and arrived at Mrs. Conn's home Monday night.

They were taken to Blanchester Jail, then transferred to the Clinton County Jail at Wilmington.

will become effective on July 1, 1968.

Council took another step towards advancement of the North Storm Sewer District last night.

An ordinance was adopted, under suspension of the rules, for the auditor to certify the availability of money for the project. Work is to begin as soon as funds are available.

More legislation dealing with the improvement of E. High Street cropped up again last night. An ordinance was passed under a suspension of the rules to proceed with the improvement by regrading, resurfacing and installing curbs and gutters in front of properties that failed to do so under previous legislation.

Property owners to be assessed for the curb and gutter installation will be Clifton Auto Parts, Freda Collins (three lots) and Rose L. Stephens.

Three ordinances appropriating money were as follows: $500 appropriation to be credited to the equipment account of the Police Department; $600 appropriation to be credited to the city's utility account for telephone, fuel, power and water; and a $500 appropriation credited to the stationary, incidentals and supplies account for payment of services in preparing an all-purpose map of wards 2, 3, and 4 of the city.

The solons accepted, via ordinance, donations totaling $45 from the Kiwanis Club and $40 to Bottling Co. to be used by the Police Department for special schooling of Patrolman Larry Pontious.

CORRESPONDENCE from Mayor Ben Gordon informed the solons that E. L. Crist had been appointed to another term on the Berger Hospital Board of Governors. The term is to expire May 31, 1971.

Reinforced Americans Hit Bunkers

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. reinforcements poured onto Hill 875 near Dak To today as American paratroopers, artillery and planes fought doggedly to root out the last entrenched North Vietnamese.

With at least 246 Americans killed, 860 wounded and an estimated 1,290 North Vietnamese killed, the cost of the 20-day-old campaign around Dak To has been exceeded in the war only by the 30-day campaign just before Thanksgiving 1965 in the Ia Drang valley and around near Plei Mei. In that one 371 Americans and 105 South Vietnamese were killed, 558 Americans and 248 South Vietnamese were wounded, 1,771 Communists were killed and 138 were captured.

At noon today, after 72 hours of fighting, two U.S. battalions appeared to be in nearly full control of Hill 875. They were clawing their way toward a bunkered ridge line leading off the crest and still held by the enemy.

The Dak To fighting has become the longest sustained battle of the war, but U.S. officers believe the fighting is petering out. They believe the 174th North Vietnamese regiment, in reserve to the northeast to Dak To, was committed to Hill 875 as a diversionary move so North Vietnam's 32nd and 66th regiments could slip away to the Cambodian border on the southwest and sanctuary from pursuing American troops.

"I have to give the enemy his due," said one senior U.S. officer. "Obviously he had outstanding morale and discipline. He stood his ground" on Hill 875.

The battle for Hill 875 since noon Sunday has cost 79 American paratroopers killed and another 178 wounded, including seven killed and 38 wounded in a fierce clash at dusk Tuesday. Another battalion of U.S. infantrymen moved onto the hill today, increasing the American strength to 1,500.

Amount of the damage was not known immediately but firemen sounded three alarms before the fire was brought under control.

Judge Withholds Morals Verdict

Common Pleas Judge William Ammer is withholding a ruling in the case of a local man charged in a morals case until early next week.

Judge Ammer made the announcement Tuesday following completion of testimony in the case against John Fyffe, one of three men accused of having carnal knowledge of a female under 16 years of age.

Testimony in the criminal action was heard Monday and Tuesday without a jury at the request of Fyffe's attorney, Harry Margulis.

First of the three cases was held last week with a three-judge court presiding. Richard Penn, Circleville attorney, was the defense counsel for William Jackson who was acquitted by the tribunal after Prosecutor Robert Huffer failed to establish Jackson's age in the court records as an adult.

THE THIRD and final case will see Richard Gerhardt defend Arthur W. (Tink) Crosby and is scheduled to open Monday in the Common Pleas Courtroom. Crosby has his choice of trial by jury, a tribunal or the presiding judge to hear his case.

Judge Ammer claims he will return the verdict in Fyffe's case while the jury is deliberating—should one be impanelled.

If Judge Ammer is the sole jurist hearing the case, at the request of the defendant, the judge will announce Fyffe's verdict prior to opening statements.

Solons Eye Tax Boosts, Cost Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—By its late-session drive in Congress for tax boosts and cost cuts, the administration hopes to slash in half this year's prospective $29 billion deficit.

The deficit would be shrunk to roughly $15 billion—still one of the biggest splashes of red ink in U.S. history—by the fiscal package plan to be presented to the House Ways and Means Committee next Tuesday.

To approach the lower figure, it became clear, it would be necessary for Congress to make the 10 per cent surcharge on individual income and corporation taxes effective Oct. 1.

Actually, a retroactive personal income tax boost is most unlikely. Congress consistently has rejected such proposals but in some instances has enacted retroactive corporate tax hikes.

It seemed likely, therefore, that the administration hopes for an Oct. 1 effective date for business firms and a Jan. 1, 1968 date for the start of bigger paycheck withholding from wage earners.

The White House has described its fiscal package—whose details still are under wraps—as providing expenditures cuts to match the anticipated $7 billion tax receipts dollar for dollar.

However, the cuts to be haggled over in the Nov. 28 meeting will add up to $4 billion. About $3 billion of the potential $29 billion deficit already has been erased tentatively.

Asked at the National Press Club Tuesday whether he felt uncomfortable about making such a prediction in the light of McNamara's forecast, Westmoreland replied:

"My statement is to the effect it is conceivable to me that within two years or less it will be possible for us to phase down our level of commitment and turn more of the burden of the war to the Vietnamese forces."

Both the Westmoreland forecast and McNamara's 1963 prediction hinged on the same factor: Development of the South Vietnamese army as a force effective enough to fight Communist forces with decreasing U.S. help.

But there is an important difference in the firmness of the predictions made by McNamara and Westmoreland, some four years apart.

McNamara forecast a major part of the U.S. military job could be finished within two years, by the end of 1965.

But Westmoreland speaks about a token withdrawal starting in about two years and hopefully becoming progressively larger. And the commander of U.S. Forces in Vietnam repeatedly used the word "conceivably" in speaking of the beginning of the phase-down over that span.

Asked at the National Press Club Tuesday whether he felt uncomfortable about making such a prediction in the light of McNamara's forecast, Westmoreland replied:

Nation Notes Assassination Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP)—Every day people come to visit the grave of John F. Kennedy, and their numbers now are 21 million. Every day flowers cover the granite stone marking the site.

President Johnson is sending a wreath today, for it was four years ago, on Nov. 22, 1963, that President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Tex.

Each year on this date Kennedy relatives and old friends have slipped in quietly to bring flowers and stand a while in remembrance.

In downtown Washington, the 12:10 p.m. Mass at St. Matthew's Cathedral was to be offered for Kennedy, Kings and Queens and heads of state gathered there four years ago for his funeral Mass.

When heads of state visit Washington now they make it a part of their official schedule to place a wreath at the Kennedy grave.

Anyone may bring flowers to the Kennedy grave, and many do. Tuesday there was one yellow rose lying on the granite, and behind the grave a spray of carnations, two baskets of gladioli and a red rose.

Churchmen of three faiths hold a simple, one-hour observance today at Dealey Plaza, where gunfire cut down President John F. Kennedy four years ago.

A city park spokesman said he anticipated that more than the usual number of floral wreaths would be placed at the site by anonymous persons today.

Ever since the assassination, mourners have placed bouquets and wreaths at Dealey Plaza, and for a while, the nearby two-square-block area was nearly covered by flowers.

Now, with the passage of time, fewer flowers are to be seen. Tuesday there were only three. Two bore no message but the third had a note attached that read simply: "4th."

Still, visitors come to Dealey Plaza. They take photographs of the Texas School Book Depository, where, the Warren Commission said, the fatal shots were fired from a sixth-floor window.

They walk down the sidewalk parallel to Elm Street, where the president was hit. They point to the triple overpass, through which the presidential motorcade rushed to Parkland Hospital, five miles away.

Mostly, though, they just stand and look, perhaps reliving in their minds the tragic event that happened there Nov. 22, 1963.

Asked at the National Press Club Tuesday whether he felt uncomfortable about making such a prediction in the light of McNamara's forecast, Westmoreland replied:

"My statement is to the effect it is conceivable to me that within two years or less it will be possible for us to phase down our level of commitment and turn more of the burden of the war to the Vietnamese forces."

Solons Take Wives Along On Trip to NATO Meeting

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional wives have been singing "Take Me Along" and their husbands have been listening judiciously by the makeup of a U.S. contingent attending a NATO assembly in Brussels, Belgium.

The congressional delegation — for which $50,000 in tax money has been set aside — includes 7 senators, 12 representatives, 13 wives and 10 staff people, according to an Associated Press survey.

The State Department says nearly 70 people are making the trip — the Capitol Hill group of 42 plus administration officials and aides.

There was no breakdown on the number of administrative officials or whether any were taking wives at their own expense.

The government pays transportation and hotel bills for the congressmen as well as for North Atlantic Treaty Organization and administration officials designated to take the trip.

The congressional wives get a free ride on the three Air Force planes provided, but the State Department says they or their husbands must pay all other expenses.

The NATO assembly is an annual meeting of legislators from the 14 member nations. Senate and House delegates are appointed by the vice president and House speaker.

The State Department says about 25 took the House delegation plane last Friday, about 32 took the Senate delegation plane Saturday and about a dozen are expected to take a third flight today after a Senate vote on Social Security.

The transportation and hotel expenses for delegates are paid from NATO funds appropriated by Congress.

At least one delegate — Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., head of the Senate group — planned to return by commercial flight for the Social Security vote. There was no word on who would pay the fare.

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., one of the House delegates who took his wife, said: "Because of diplomatic functions involving delegates and wives from the other nations, U.S. delegates are encouraged to bring their wives."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee says if Congress doesn't restore its limitation on presidential power, the people of this country will be threatened with tyranny or disaster.

The committee's comment was in a report on a resolution designed to limit a president's power to commit the armed services to combat without congressional approval. The committee unanimously approved the resolution last week.

The report, released Tuesday, said the last four presidents—Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson—have "asserted unrestricted executive authority to commit the armed services without the consent of Congress." Eisenhower, the report said, asserted such authority only "a shade less than the others."

The report also said that the committee's resolution was designed to limit a president's power to commit the armed services to combat without congressional approval. The committee unanimously approved the resolution last week.

Circleville VFW Post Holds Contest

The Circleville VFW Post No. 3331 is conducting a "Voice of Democracy" contest, it was announced by Merle H. Thomas, post commander.

In announcing the annual script-writing contest conducted by the post, Thomas pointed out that among the fringe benefits derived by students are increased self-confidence, greater poise, and valuable practice in expressing ideas clearly.

Local winners will receive $100 savings bond as first prize, a $50 bond as second prize and a $25 bond for third prize. The local winner will then be eligible to compete on a state level.

For the state winners, there is a five day tour of Washington D. C.

IN the six years the Veterans of Foreign Wars has been the sponsor of the Voice of Democracy contest, more than 1,000,000 high school students have participated according to Thomas.

Entrants must write and then tape record a three to five minute broadcast script expressing their personal views on Freedom.

From among the state winners, five national winners are chosen to receive a total of $13,500 in scholarships.

"One of the greatest benefits to young people who take part in the contest is that through reflecting seriously on freedom, they gain a better appreciation of their heritage of freedom," Thomas said.

Many people think that they should use fine china only on special occasions, because they believe it's so fragile. It's really extremely hard, though, and takes much wear, so use it as often as you like. It needs no pampering. Just avoid hard detergents, gritty cleansers or steel wool that might mar the flawless high glaze. Use any mild soap or detergent, instead, and rinse with soft water to keep it free of soap film and to reveal its beauty. Handle fine china as you would any lovely possession, and it will reward you with generations of beauty and usefulness.

To avoid the jitters that often attack a new mother when she first places baby in the bath, try this: wear a flannel work-type glove on the left hand for a more secure grip on baby's slippery body. The glove is soft to tender skin and is a moral support to mother.

What's the best way to rid your plumbing fixtures and clothing of iron stains? You can usually avoid these stains with soft water, according to The Lindsay Company, manufacturer of automatic home water softeners. If there is iron in the water, see a trained water conditioning expert, the company suggests. He'll recommend what you need according to the iron content of the water. If the iron content isn't too high, a water softener will remove the iron. High concentrations may require an iron filter in addition.

You don't have to use fine damask, linen, or lace for the formal dinner table any more. Recently, colored linens or individual place mats have become quite acceptable.

Solons Take Wives Along On Trip to NATO Meeting

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional wives have been singing "Take Me Along" and their husbands have been listening judiciously by the makeup of a U.S. contingent attending a NATO assembly in Brussels, Belgium.

The congressional delegation — for which $50,000 in tax money has been set aside — includes 7 senators, 12 representatives, 13 wives and 10 staff people, according to an Associated Press survey.

The State Department says nearly 70 people are making the trip — the Capitol Hill group of 42 plus administration officials and aides.

There was no breakdown on the number of administrative officials or whether any were taking wives at their own expense.

The government pays transportation and hotel bills for the congressmen as well as for North Atlantic Treaty Organization and administration officials designated to take the trip.

The congressional wives get a free ride on the three Air Force planes provided, but the State Department says they or their husbands must pay all other expenses.

Ervin Leist, public utilities manager, announced that he would be attending a meeting of the Ohio Water Pollution and Control Board on Nov. 29, in Columbus.

William Bressler, local realtor, asked council on behalf of a client for advice in taking steps to extend Clark Drive and Sever District No. 2 to service a 7-acre tract south of the new high school. Bressler noted his client has plans for selling the land to an individual, who will build a convalescent home on the property. Following a committee study of the proposal, legislation is expected to be introduced which will permit the extension of the sewer to the acreage which is within the city limits.

Fourth Ward Councilman Boyd Horn also asked for consideration of sewer service in the Turner Addition in his ward. Ervin Leist said the proposal had been made before, but the assessment costs at that time prohibited the sewer extension to the area.

The NATO assembly is an annual meeting of legislators from the 14 member nations. Senate and House delegates are appointed by the vice president and House speaker.

The State Department says about 25 took the House delegation plane last Friday, about 32 took the Senate delegation plane Saturday and about a dozen are expected to take a third flight today after a Senate vote on Social Security.

The transportation and hotel expenses for delegates are paid from NATO funds appropriated by Congress.

At least one delegate—Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., head of the Senate group—planned to return by commercial flight for the Social Security vote. There was no word on who would pay the fare.

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., one of the House delegates who took his wife, said: "Because of diplomatic functions involving delegates and wives from the other nations, U.S. delegates are encouraged to bring their wives."

GOP Faces Hard '68 Fight: Morton

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Thurston E. Morton says President Johnson will be hard to beat in 1968 despite possible challenge for the Democratic nomination and his current low ranking in the polls.

Morton, former GOP national chairman, said some Republicans appear overly optimistic about unseating Johnson if he seeks re-election next year as expected. The Kentucky senator attributed the optimism to recent polls showing any of five potential Republican candidates could defeat the President.

"The President could get some breaks in the Vietnam war that would make it almost impossible to defeat him," Morton said. "Even if the war situation remains about what it is now, he's going to be a tough man to beat."

Morton predicted voters may take their war frustrations out on Democratic senators and House members while deciding to keep the President in office.

He said he thinks Republicans have a good chance of capturing the House if former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama does not cut too deeply into their ranks in the South. The GOP would have to gain a net of 32 seats to accomplish that turn-over.

Wallace has given every sign he intends to run on a third-party ticket in the general election after exploring his strength in some Democratic presidential primaries.

"It is difficult to judge the effect Wallace will have on our House candidates in the South," Morton said. "I would expect him to run strong in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, South Carolina and possibly Georgia. "Anti-Johnson Democrats who Bayh amendment would be $600 million in 1968.

The Senate bill would establish a new range of payments of from $70 to $163.30 beginning next April for individuals now getting checks compared with the present range of $44 to $142.

But the new schedules in the bill would have even more far-reaching effect on those retiring in the future.

The Senate bill would raise the taxable base for the payroll levy from the present $6,600 to $8,000 next year and eventually to $10,800 in 1972.

The present rate of 4.4 per cent, paid both by employer and employee, would go up to 5.8 per cent by 1987. But that is almost the same as present law which would take it to 5.65 per cent in 1987.

For the 75 million persons paying taxes under the system, the Senate provisions would mean that the present maximum tax of $290.40 would go up to $352 in 1968, to $422.40 in 1969 and eventually to $626.40 in 1987.

Other important provisions in the Senate bill would:

—Increase to $50 a month the special payment for persons over 72 who lack sufficient coverage to qualify for basic benefits. They now get $35.

—Permit men and women to retire at age 60 with actuarially reduced benefits. Only widows can do so now and the minimum age for others is 62.

—Make disabled widows and widowers eligible for benefits equal to 82½ per cent of the deceased spouse's primary entitlement.

Ohio Chamber Picks Leaders, Hears Kurfess

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess of Bowling Green warned Tuesday that civil disorders create "an atmosphere of potential danger."

Kurfess, speaking before the 74th annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, sharply criticized those who "openly advocate violation of the law" and added that tighter law enforcement procedures currently are under study.

The speaker also called for a legislative search for a better method of teacher negotiations with school boards.

"This legislation is not only advisable but it is necessary," he said.

The Chamber also elected officers Tuesday to serve along with President Frank E. Cheney of Lima, who has another year to serve in his two-year term.

District vice presidents re-elected include Edwin L. Heminger, publisher of the Findlay Republican Courier, and R. Livingston Ireland of Cleveland.

Others re-elected were D. Bruce Mansfield, president of the Ohio Edison Co., Akron, first vice president, and these four general vice presidents:

A.N. Prentice, Ohio Power Co., executive vice president, Canton; Charles J. Miller, regional vice president of the General Electric Co., Cleveland; Avery C. Hand Jr., president of the First National Bank Mansfield; and Don W. Montgomery, Celina Insurance group president and general manager, Celina.

Roy E. Jordan Jr., Cleveland, former president of the Mosaic Tile Co., was elected as a life director of the Chamber.

Chicago Ripped By Violence

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 60 persons were arrested Tuesday night as racial disturbances at three Chicago high schools spilled into violence on the city streets.

Twelve persons, including three policemen and a newsman, were injured.

Scores of windows were broken as bands of Negro youths hurling rocks and bottles skirmished with police in an area centered around a housing project and Cooley Vocational High School.

There were some reports of looting.

Tuesday night's violence mushroomed from an earlier disturbance at Waller High School which later spread to Cooley. The schools are about 10 blocks apart.

Heavy Storm Hits California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The heaviest three-day storm in Southern California history brought new flooding and traffic accidents today as damage reached into millions of dollars.

The storm was blamed for 22 deaths. It left 7.93 inches of rain in downtown Los Angeles and still more in other areas.

In early 1935 a five-day storm dumped 11.06 inches of rain—the most in Los Angeles history.

Although airports remained open, motorists were hampered by flooding streets and hundreds of accidents. The metropolitan freeways were choked.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee says if Congress doesn't restore its limitation on presidential power, the people of this country will be threatened with tyranny or disaster.

The committee's comment was in a report on a resolution designed to limit a president's power to commit the armed services to combat without congressional approval. The committee unanimously approved the resolution last week.

The report, released Tuesday, said the last four presidents—Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson—have "asserted unrestricted executive authority to commit the armed services without the consent of Congress." Eisenhower, the report said, asserted such authority only "a shade less than the others."

Circleville VFW Post Holds Contest

The Circleville VFW Post No. 3331 is conducting a "Voice of Democracy" contest, it was announced by Merle H. Thomas, post commander.

In announcing the annual script-writing contest conducted by the post, Thomas pointed out that among the fringe benefits derived by students are increased self-confidence, greater poise, and valuable practice in expressing ideas clearly.

Local winners will receive $100 savings bond as first prize, a $50 bond as second prize and a $25 bond for third prize. The local winner will then be eligible to compete on a state level.

For the state winners, there is a five day tour of Washington D. C.

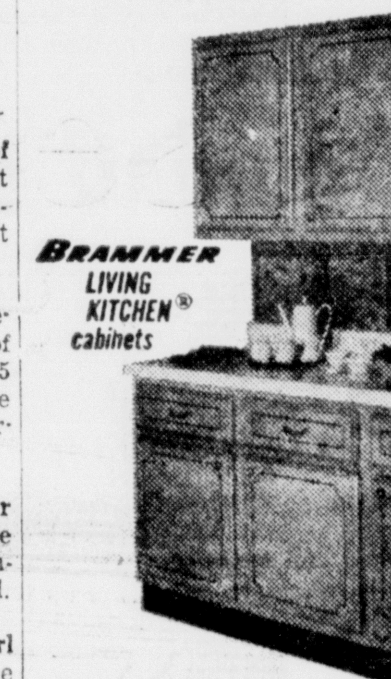

IN the six years the Veterans of Foreign Wars has been the sponsor of the Voice of Democracy contest, more than 1,000,000 high school students have participated according to Thomas.

Entrants must write and then tape record a three to five minute broadcast script expressing their personal views on Freedom.

From among the state winners, five national winners are chosen to receive a total of $13,500 in scholarships.

"One of the greatest benefits to young people who take part in the contest is that through reflecting seriously on freedom, they gain a better appreciation of their heritage of freedom," Thomas said.

LINDA SCOTT writes

For Women Only

Many people think that they should use fine china only on special occasions, because they believe it's so fragile. It's really extremely hard, though, and takes much wear, so use it as often as you like. It needs no pampering. Just avoid hard detergents, gritty cleansers or steel wool that might mar the flawless high glaze. Use any mild soap or detergent, instead, and rinse with soft water to keep it free of soap film and to reveal its beauty. Handle fine china as you would any lovely possession, and it will reward you with generations of beauty and usefulness.

To avoid the jitters that often attack a new mother when she first places baby in the bath, try this: wear a flannel work-type glove on the left hand for a more secure grip on baby's slippery body. The glove is soft to tender skin and is a moral support to mother.

What's the best way to rid your plumbing fixtures and clothing of iron stains? You can usually avoid these stains with soft water, according to The Lindsay Company, manufacturer of automatic home water softeners. If there is iron in the water, see a trained water conditioning expert, the company suggests. He'll recommend what you need according to the iron content of the water. If the iron content isn't too high, a water softener will remove the iron. High concentrations may require an iron filter in addition.

You don't have to use fine damask, linen, or lace for the formal dinner table any more. Recently, colored linens or individual place mats have become quite acceptable.

A "hole" in Lake Michigan off Chicago's South Side—surrounded by a dike and accessible from shore by a combination bridge-tunnel — has been proposed as one of 15 sites for the city's third major airport.

City officials have given no indication of when a site for a new airport will be given final approval. But aviation experts say the city will need a new airport by 1975, despite the planned expansion of O'Hare International and Midway airports, to handle increased traffic.

The possibility of almost unlimited expansion is one of the advantages of an airport in the lake. But the proportions of such a project would be monumental and it would have a price tag to match.

A feasibility study, concluded that the lake site could be prepared in four years at a cost ranging from $247 million to $284 million.

The task of wresting the land from the lake would be similar to Holland's centuries-old struggle to reclaim land from the North Sea. The project would begin with the construction of a circular dike in the relatively shallow waters of the lake about 3½ miles off 31st Street, just south of the downtown section.

One boats and scows would haul more than 59 million cubic yards of sand, gravel and rock to the site—some six million cubic yards more than went into construction of Egypt's Aswan High Dam on the Nile River—and dump it into the water to form a circle with a diameter of four miles.

The dike, varying in height from 50 to 80 ft and about 12½ miles long, would enclose an area of 8,000 acres—more than half the size of Manhattan. The water, ranging in depth from 35 to 55 feet, would then be pumped out to expose the lake's floor.

Borings into the lake floor showed that the layer of sand and clay covering the bedrock should present no problems in construction.

The saucer-like dry spot in the lake would be connected with shore by a short causeway built out from the Stevenson Expressway, a long, low bridge almost to the dike and a short tunnel underneath the dike into the airport.

But despite the prestige a lake airport might bring to the city, some hope it never is more than a sketch on an engineer's drawing board.

"We did not expect them to propose an airport on the bottom of the lake," said Charles H. Ruby, president of the Air Line Pilots Association, based in Chicago. "That means there's a built-in obstruction all around—at the end of every runway."

Ruby said the airport would be inoperable when mist from the lake freezes on the runways.

"You can't operate under those conditions," he said. "The winds would blow in and splash water all over the place."

The engineering study says the dike would be high enough and wide enough to thwart the most severe breakers. And it would be faced with 13,700,000 cubic yards of stone—more than four times the amount used to build the Great Pyramid of Cheops.

"You get lower ceilings and visibility down on the lake than you do inland anytime such a problem exists," Ruby said. "We're not against airports; we're for them. But we think they should be operable 365 days a year and 24 hours a day if possible."

Air line executives meeting in Chicago when the engineering study was released said collectively that an airport in the lake is an intriguing idea but that it must be thoroughly examined before construction.

Of Lynda's
Wedding Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson's seven bridal attendants will wear long gowns of a plush deep red velvet designed by Geoffrey Beene of New York, it was announced officially today.

Red was chosen because of the pre-Christmas Holiday time of the year.

Details of bride-to-be Lynda's wedding gown will not be announced in advance of the Dec. 9 White House wedding, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, press secretary to the First Lady, said.

The bridegroom, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb of Milwaukee, Wis., will wear his military dress blue uniform.

His fellow Marine best man will wear dress blues too, but the six other grooms men will be in cutaways.

President Johnson, escorting his daughter, will wear the same cutaways he wore when his younger daughter Lucy was married in August 1966.

The 12-minute Episcopal ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Canon Gerald McAllister of San Antonio, Tex.

The 500 guests will stand through the double ring ceremony.

A "hole" in Lake Michigan off Chicago's South Side—surrounded by a dike and accessible from shore by a combination bridge-tunnel — has been proposed as one of 15 sites for the city's third major airport.

"With an airport in the lake, Chicago would be the only city in the world which would be capable of handling the present family of jets, jumbo jets and the supersonic jet aircraft in an airport located in the heart of the city," said Mayor Richard J. Daley.

City officials have given no indication of when a site for a new airport will be given final approval. But aviation experts say the city will need a new airport by 1975, despite the planned expansion of O'Hare International and Midway airports, to handle increased traffic.

Sirens vs Sonic Booms

In Miami the National Conference of Civil Defense Directors heard, as well as heard about, a "sonic boom alert system" that is reported to be a big improvement over sirens.

Gear lofts a projectile that explodes in the air, setting off a "deep, heavy reverberating sound that covers a 50-square-mile area but causes no damage to anything on the ground."

If the public ignores sirens today — except on fast-approaching emergency vehicles — clearly some thought to possible alternatives is in order. And there can be no doubt that a sonic boom would attract attention, even if it were a weak sister compared to those anticipated from the new supersonic transports.

It is also true, apparently, that the new device causes no damage to anything on the ground.

Yet what assurances are there that people will not disregard a boom as they now disregard a siren? Perhaps sheer change from one type of signal to another has its merits, but the opinions of psychologists and physicians should also be considered.

They are already saying that people subjected to loud or constant noise suffer without realizing they do.

Before the switch from sirens to artificial thunder is made, let's be sure that the old reliable, excruciating sirens aren't really the most tolerable and effective devices, after all, for civil defense alerting purposes.

TWO VETERAN New York taxi drivers were having a bite together after hours. "My luck gets worse and worse," grumbled one. "Just today I got two tickets from blank cops, blew a tire, broke down in traffic and had to be towed to the garage, and drove one skintight thirty miles out in Long Island. He gave me a twenty-five-cent tip!" "Hmphh," sneered the other. "You think YOU have had bad luck. All this week my off-duty sign wouldn't light up!"

Pierre Nordon, in his absorbing biography of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle reveals that in his early days as a doctor, Doyle filed one year's tax report showing no income whatever. The tax office returned it with "Most unsatisfactory" written in the margin. Young Dr. Doyle resubmitted it, adding to the tax man's complaint, "I entirely agree!" Then, in 1886, Doyle created the immortal Sherlock Holmes — and his monetary worries were ended for good.

Many responsible critics are convinced that Sherlock Holmes stories will still be hugely popular long after that upstart James Bond is completely forgotten. Indeed, when Author Doyle got so tired of his creation that he had Sherlock done in by his arch-enemy, Dr. Moriarty, bereaved readers went into mourning, and so many baskets full of protest poured in that he had to write another story bringing his hero triumphantly back to the land of living.

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

How can one choose the proper tranquilizer when there are so many on the market?

The choice of a tranquilizer, or a mood elevator drug, must never be the decision of the patient. Unfortunately, these drugs are purchased contrary to rigid laws, in stores that illegally peddle them. Reliable pharmacists know the dangers of tranquilizers, psychic energizers and other falsely stimulating or depressing drugs and never prescribe them without the specific direction of a doctor.

These drugs are used today with such frequency and borrowed and loaned by well-meaning friends that their real danger is overlooked. This is not an uncommon phenomenon in any pattern of life's behavior. When a dangerous "weapon" is used frequently its real hazards are overlooked.

Drugs that may be perfectly benign and safe for one person may turn out to be exceedingly dangerous for another. Comparing your tranquilizer with another person's does not also include the judgment of the doctor who carefully made the decision to use them.

"Trading" among friends is the possibility of developing a real dependence on them. Some people are known to be addictive, which means that they actually become dependent upon almost any drug, and certainly on these drugs which can definitely affect the personality of the user.

Detroit Newspaper Strike Continues

DETROIT, (AP)—The strike that precipitated the closing of Detroit's two daily newspapers moved into its sixth day today and in the meantime, one of four emergency newspapers has been killed by labor troubles of its own while another was on the streets Monday.

The Detroit Daily Times, which planned to publish Monday folded in the pressroom when members of the Pressman's Union refused to print the paper.

The use of any of these drugs should be limited only to the time of greatest need and not be continued beyond it. Let your doctor, and only your doctor, make the choice.

Is the new vaccine for mumps available and is it free from danger?

The new vaccine for mumps will soon be ready for distribution. Many thousands of cases have already shown the value of the vaccine as a preventive against this virus infection. It is estimated that it is about 97 per cent effective in children who have been exposed to mumps.

Mumps happens so frequently that it is accepted as one of the "routine" illnesses of childhood. Physicians know that there are sufficient serious complications of mumps to warrant the protection of every child against it.

Adults who have never had mumps frequently acquire it after exposure and are then threatened by the possibility of complications. True, this does not happen in all cases, but if a single castastrophe can be avoided then vaccination against mumps should be universal and in all ages.

A vaccine works by stimulating the body's natural defenses and by producing antibodies sufficient to act as a protection if ever the person is exposed or in contact with this viral infection.

As with many vaccines, "booster shots" are necessary to keep up the level of the antibodies. Each vaccine may need a booster at different intervals, depending on the age of the patient and the character of the vaccine.

NEW YORK (AP) — Barbie is off for Vietnam, along with Batman, Little Snoopy and a host of other toys American children will find under the Christmas tree.

A toy salesman on a one-man campaign, individual toy companies, charity organizations and GIs in Vietnam already have helped get toys to thousands of Vietnamese youngsters for Tet Tan Sun, the Vietnamese new year. More are on the way.

"Last year we donated a few toys to two orphanages in Vietnam, to help improve the American image abroad," said H.H. Coords, president of Fisher Price Toys, Inc., the preschool toy manufacturer in East Aurora, N.Y.

This fall, 100,000 wagons and balls, wheelbarrows and balloons dolls and games, have been donated to be distributed by the Marines as part of their civic action program. "I'm not a crusader or anything, but I thought it was right," said Jay Krotman, 31, the New York toy salesman who organized a drive. "My next-door neighbor is a retired Marine major, and he told me about this civic action program to help the Vietnamese."

"I sent out 325 letters, and 60 per cent responded. They were great. One manufacturer in New Jersey sent 96 cartons."

Krotman asked for—and got—art supplies, baby toys, gym sets, plastic toys, puzzles, models and plush animals.

"Please don't send any guns and war toys," he asked. He said Marines suggested no guns.

Some toys have been shipped to Vietnam under other programs, however. Daisy-Heddon division of Victor Comptometer Corp., Rogers, Ark., has sent cap pistols, toy rifles and gun holster sets to individual servicemen to give to children in their areas "almost since the first Christmas U.S. servicemen spent in Vietnam." This year it increased its contribution to 1,000 items, 200 more than in 1966.

Catholic Relief Services will distribute nearly 2,000 abandoned Barbie dolls traded in by their young American owners on a newer, twistier model.

Hundreds of other toys will be distributed by servicemen.

Pfc. Mike Voorhees saw the children in the village of Xuam Ho and wrote home to Tonka Corp. at Mound, Minn., which sent off 125 steel trucks.

"What you have done has brought smiles and happiness over the faces of 125 children," Voorhees wrote back.

A Double Standard

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Talk about a double standard. Ralph Schoenmann, the American who has been serving as general secretary of Bertrand Russell's "peace" foundation in Britain, has had his U.S. passport confiscated because of his recent visit to North Vietnam, which is legally off-limits to U.S. travelers.

But Tom Hayden, a founder of Students for a Democratic Society who joined Communist Party theoretician Herbert Aptheker and Yale's Professor Staughton Lynd on an unauthorized trip to Hanoi two years ago, turns up in Phnom Penh in Cambodia as the shepherd for three American staff sergeants who have been freed, presumably for propaganda reasons, by the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front.

How is it that Mr. Hayden can still travel around the world as representative for an anti-war group that includes Dr. Benjamin Spock and Dr. Martin Luther King when he has violated the same passport regulation that has tripped up Bertrand Russell's man Schoenmann? At first blush it would seem to be extreme negligence on the part of the U.S. State Department. But a little digging turns up the information that Hayden no longer has a valid passport. In December of 1965, when he was contemplating his illegal trip to North Vietnam, he applied for a replacement for a passport that he said he had lost. The State Department thereupon issued him a temporary passport good for six months, or to June of 1966.

Apparently nobody needs a passport to travel around the world provided other governments are complaisant about letting a person in. The legal aspects of such travel so far as the U.S. is concerned are shrouded in mystery. Can a person be indicted for going to "prohibited areas," such as Castro's Cuba or Ho Chi Minh's North Vietnam? If you want to go to Hanoi or to Havana, and justify it when you come home, it is a cinch that you can find a lawyer to take your case. When the House Committee on Un-American Activities was investigating the visit of two hundred young Americans to Cuba a few years ago, it discovered the phenomenon of the "slip visa." A "slip visa" is something printed on a piece of paper that is temporarily attached to a passport. It can be destroyed once you have left the country that has issued it to you. In which case, of course, there is no evidence that you have broken a law.

What Hayden's most recent trip outside the U.S. illustrates is the growing inability of the American government to defend its own law. Our national representatives have been elected in accordance with the basic Constitutional provisions that govern the choice of legislators and executives. Yet the Students for a Democratic Society, whose "Port Huron Statement" was co-authored by Tom Hayden, stand things on their head by calling the U.S. "establishment" a "quasi-Fascist" regime. The SDS "New Left Notes" quotes Henrik Ibsen's statement that "the most dangerous enemy of truth and freedom amongst us is that compact majority — yes, the damned, compact Liberal majority." "Participatory democracy," which the SDS supports, is a system in which any person has the right to negate the decision of the "damned, compact Liberal majority." This is a certain prescription for anarchy.

SDS is so far gone in "organized Chaos" that it has abolished its offices of President and Vice President. Its "interorganizational secretary," who used to be Vice President, is Carl George Davidson, who thinks that companies that manufacture materials such as napalm for the Pentagon have, by that action, forfeited their right to free speech. Again, we see the SDS denial of basic rights to people who are guilty of nothing more than doing contractual work for a legally elected government. SDS has turned the definition of Fascism inside out: in its dictionary the actual democrats become fascists the tyrannous minority becomes democratic. Yet, in the face of this Humpty Dumpty logic, the Dow Chemical Company virtually apologizes for entering into a contract with the Pentagon. And the CIA, capitulating to the young totalitarians on the campuses, decides to do its recruiting in off-campus locations.

No government can last if it refuses to defend its own rights under its own law. Which is precisely what the SDS wants, and precisely the reason why Tom Hayden, a co-founder of the SDS, is contemptuous of the protection of an American passport when he travels abroad.

The Circleville Union-Herald Daily and Weekly and The Circleville Herald Daily were sold to the Circleville Publishing Company, headed by Arthur A. Hoop, ingarner of Dover, O. and Norman Ralston, Urbana. There was now only one daily newspaper in Circleville. It was called The Circleville Herald. The weekly Union-Herald was continued.

"Jiggs" and "Just Kids" were two new cartoon features of the Circleville Herald.

The Circleville Herald was rapidly completing its new improvements in the old Watchman building. Machinery was installed and other improvements made to make the paper grow.

Clinton B. Teagard of Duval was awarded first and second place on Shorthorn bulls at the National Stock Show in Chicago.

Civic and rural leaders paid tribute to Walter Marion, Circleville Twp. resident, on his selection as one of the Master Farmers in Ohio in 1927. He was one of the two farmers named in this area and the youngest agriculturist in Pickaway County to receive this award.

The suggestion of the state highway department that the two ancient elms in the middle of the Circleville trail south of South Bloomfield be removed in the interest of safety aroused a great deal of discussion throughout Pickaway County, where the old trees were regarded with much sentiment. The matter of removing the trees had been suggested time and again to the board of county commissioners, but no action had been taken as pleas were made to save the old landmarks.

The charter was received from the Secretary of State and the incorporation of Pickaway County Club was completed. There were 103 subscriptions listed on the membership books.

The Circleville police patrol car was stolen from the front of city hall.

Prospects for a successful season for the Circleville High School basketball teams looked good. Returning lettermen for the boys were: Marion, Peters, Pickens and Bales. The girls' squad, captained by Mabel Young, were hoping for a repeat win of the Central Ohio League championship. Probable starters with Miss Young were: Faye Puckett, Frances Jones, Catherine Groom, Helen Crist and Edna Rittinger.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will have been in the White House four years as of Wednesday. If he had to leave right now he would probably feel terribly frustrated, disappointed and ineffectual.

Much he could have done or tried to do about problems at home he couldn't do because of the Vietnamese war which has engulfed his time, thought and energy. If his problems had stayed home, he might now have one of the greatest records.

But now suddenly, instead of succumbing to gloom or despair, he is trying to be a new Johnson by creating a fresh image of himself in the public eye.

He has been on the defensive these past two years because of antiwar criticism. Yet, if any president ever yearned to be approved, it was Johnson. It showed repeatedly in his tone, words, face and gestures.

Still, he will not bend to the critics. The result: He is a man in a straightjacket.

He has refused to abandon or tone down the war; to make concessions without reciprocal concessions from North Vietnam; or to intensify it so much Red China might feel compelled to get in, which might mean World War III.

Since he wants so much to be a successful president and a popular one, why hasn't he yielded to his critics? He has given an answer which probably satisfies none of them: He will fulfill his obligations as he sees them.

His first White House year, 1964, was taken mostly with trying to win election to the presidency on his own and preparing domestic programs for 1965 if elected. Vietnam was a growing major problem then, but not all-consuming.

In 1965 Congress, under his leadership which meant political mastery, produced the most fruitful legislation in American history. But by the end of 1965 this country was up to its neck in the war.

This showed vividly in 1966 when Johnson no longer could pay all his attention to domestic problems. That year Congress did a half-baked job. It's doing the same this year. Diverted by the war, Johnson has lost his political mastery.

Now he is like a man alone. Members of his own party have turned against him. One is threatening to run against him for the nomination in 1968. And public confidence as measured by the Harris poll shows him at an all-time low of 23 per cent.

It seems certain Johnson will try for reelection. It also seems certain he has realized his defensiveness is dumping him towards disaster. And it seems certain he has decided to change his ways and become aggressive.

That's his natural condition anyway. He's out of place playing meek and mild. In the usual sense he is a poor speaker, especially when reading from prepared speeches or glued to the presidential rostrum at news conferences. He has changed all that.

He got himself wired for sound with a microphone around his neck, enabling him to roam free of the rostrum, and at last week's news conference put on his most impressive performance, talking off the cuff and gesturing earnestly instead of mechanically.

A week ago he visited military camps from coast to coast, defending the war, attacking his critics. On Sept. 29 in a talk broadcast nationwide he explained the war and the reasons for being in it. There was nothing defensive about it.

He has overdone other things in the past and may overdo the aggressive bit. Last week he brought back the two top American officials in Vietnam: Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander.

Johnson's desire to confer with them was the reason given for their return. There may have been another one, too: To spread good cheer about Vietnam. The two men made repeated public statements and appearances.

Despite all their statements, all they really said was they're optimistic about the war. They could have stayed in Vietnam and said all that in a letter.

New Musical Opens

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The stage is bare except for a pair of baby spotlights which Robert Goulet focuses on a bouquet of flowers. He snaps the shutter of his camera, and the image of the bouquet flashes in full color on a screen at the back of the stage.

He chooses another angle, takes the photo, and it appears on the screen. Then he substitutes a rose and photographs it. The image of the rose lights up the stage.

Thus the imaginative opening scene of "The Happy Times," a new musical having its formal opening at the Ahmanson Theater of the Music Center this week after a week's delay because of technical problems. It was worth the wait. The show seems certain to add one more hit to the perfect string of musicals directed and choreographed by Gower Champion.

The show is derived from the Broadway comedy of the same name which in turn came from a book by Robert L. Fontaine. The setting is a small French-Canadian town to which a successful photographer returns for a visit with his uninhibited family. The screened flashes of his photographs are carried through the show with marvelous results, adding beauty to the otherwise stark setting and providing warm evocation of memory.

The shot opens at New York's Broadway Theater Jan. 2.

Making his first return to Broadway since his sensational debut in 1960 with "Camelot," Goulet has a role ideally suited to his talents. As the wayward son Jacques, he creates a character that is warm and robust. Composer John Kander and lyricist Fred Ebb have provided songs he can belt, notably the title tune and "Being Alive."

David Wayne occupies costar billing as Grandpere Bonnard, the unreconstructed patriarch who collects photos of naked women and courts a nearby widow. He provides humor and spice and is made up for an indeterminate age, possibly as a sexagenarian.

Of equal importance to the plot is Bibi Bonnard, the boy who seeks to follow the footsteps of a dashing uncle. He is played with amazing stage presence by Mike Rupert, a student at nearby San Marino High School, who sings, dances and looks like a teenage Ray Bolger. The weak link in the cast is Willie Burke, through no fault of hers. She is a lovely actress with a fine voice, but her role as the school-teacher-sweetheart of Jacques lacks the definition of the colorful Bonnards.

history. But by the end of 1965 this country was up to its neck in the war.

This showed vividly in 1966 when Johnson no longer could pay all his attention to domestic problems. That year Congress did a half-baked job. It's doing the same this year. Diverted by the war, Johnson has lost his political mastery.

Now he is like a man alone. Members of his own party have turned against him. One is threatening to run against him for the nomination in 1968. And public confidence as measured by the Harris poll shows him at an all-time low of 23 per cent.

It seems certain Johnson will try for re-election. It also seems certain he has realized his defensiveness is dumping him towards disaster. And it seems certain he has decided to change his ways and become aggressive.

That's his natural condition anyway. He's out of place playing meek and mild. In the usual sense he is a poor speaker, especially when reading from prepared speeches or glued to the presidential rostrum at news conferences. He has changed all that.

He got himself wired for sound with a microphone around his neck, enabling him to roam free of the rostrum, and at last week's news conference put on his most impressive performance, talking off the cuff and gesturing earnestly instead of mechanically.

A week ago he visited military camps from coast to coast, defending the war, attacking his critics. On Sept. 29 in a talk broadcast nationwide he explained the war and the reasons for being in it. There was nothing defensive about it.

He has overdone other things in the past and may overdo the aggressive bit. Last week he brought back the two top American officials in Vietnam: Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander.

Johnson's desire to confer with them was the reason given for their return. There may have been another one, too: To spread good cheer about Vietnam. The two men made repeated public statements and appearances.

Despite all their statements, all they really said was they're optimistic about the war. They could have stayed in Vietnam and said all that in a letter.

When Saturn V took off, engineers estimated it carried some 1,400 pounds extra weight due to frost which had formed outside its liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen tanks. What's this—a free-zee loader!

By the time Saturn V had reached 9½ miles up the frost and its weight had gone—melted off. Guess you could say it gave the space vehicle a sort of second wind.

London has just installed its 640th lord mayor. He certainly has a lot of precedence to live up to!

Washington experts predict the cost of living may increase by seven per cent in 1968. Who says "seven" is a lucky number?!

Brazilian senators seek to have the name of that country changed from just "Brazil" to the "Federative Republic of Brazil." Could it be they figured the name sounded too small fry?

New Musical Opens

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The stage is bare except for a pair of baby spotlights which Robert Goulet focuses on a bouquet of flowers. He snaps the shutter of his camera, and the image of the bouquet flashes in full color on a screen at the back of the stage.

He chooses another angle, takes the photo, and it appears on the screen. Then he substitutes a rose and photographs it. The image of the rose lights up the stage.

Thus the imaginative opening scene of "The Happy Times," a new musical having its formal opening at the Alhambra Theater of the Music Center this week after a week's delay because of technical problems. It was worth the wait. The show seems certain to add one more hit to the perfect string of musicals directed and choreographed by Gower Champion.

The show is derived from the Broadway comedy of the same name which in turn came from a book by Robert L. Fontaine. The setting is a small French-Canadian town to which a successful photographer returns for a visit with his uninhibited family. The screened flashes of his photographs are carried through the show with marvelous results, adding beauty to the otherwise stark setting and providing warm evocation of memory.

The shot opens at New York's Broadway Theater Jan. 2.

Making his first return to Broadway since his sensational debut in 1960 with "Camelot," Goulet has a role ideally suited to his talents. As the wayward son Jacques, he creates a character that is warm and robust. Composer John Kander and lyricist Fred Ebb have provided songs he can belt, notably the title tune and "Being Alive."

David Wayne occupies costar billing as Grandpere Bonnard, the unreconstructed patriarch who collects photos of naked women and courts a nearby widow. He provides humor and spice and is made up for an indeterminate age, possibly as a sexagenarian.

Of equal importance to the plot is Bibi Bonnard, the boy who seeks to follow the footsteps of a dashing uncle. He is played with amazing stage presence by Mike Rupert, a student at nearby San Marino High School, who sings, dances and looks like a teenage Ray Bolger. The weak link in the cast is Willie Burke, through no fault of hers. She is a lovely actress with a fine voice, but her role as the school-teacher-sweetheart of Jacques lacks the definition of the colorful Bonnards.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 22, the 326th day of 1967. There are 39 days left in the year.

Today's most memorable event in history:

On this date in 1963, President John F. Kennedy was assassinated.

On this date— In 1643, the French explorer, Robert Cavalier de la Salle, was born.

In 1774, the founder of the British Empire in India, Lord Robert Clive, died.

In 1918, King Albert of the Belgians entered the liberated capital city of Brussels after World War I.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek opened a World War II conference in Cairo.

In 1943, a giant armada of British bombers attacked Berlin.

In 1945, Americans celebrated their first peace-time Thanksgiving in four years.

Ten years ago: The Communist parties of 64 nations issued a manifesto in Moscow endorsing the foreign policy of the Soviet Union.

Five years ago: Shooting ceased on India's frontier after 33 days of undeclared war with Communist China.

One year ago: France declared that the admission of Red China to the United Nations is essential to peace in Asia.

Stokes To Pay Money Back

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mayor Carl B. Stokes said Tuesday he has asked State Auditor Roger Cloud to send him a bill for the amount he was overpaid after resigning as a member of the Ohio House of Representatives.

Stokes resigned his house seat Nov. 12 to be sworn in as mayor of Cleveland the next day, but because state legisla-

In Columbus, the auditor's office said Stokes was paid $384 for the 18 days of this month after his resignation.

School Vandalized

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Students at rural Grand Prairie Elementary School were back in class Tuesday following an unscheduled day off due to vandalism. School officials Monday found the cafeteria littered with spilled milk and bread, broken glass and glue poured on the floor of one classroom and a piano toppled in another.

How the Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Light amounts of rain fell over Ohio during the night, and a little light rain and drizzle was still occurring in the eastern portions of the state this morning. High temperatures early today ranged from 37 at Toledo to 51 at Cincinnati.

Mostly cloudy skies were forecast for today, with a little light rain or drizzle east ending by noon. Highs in the 40s north to the 50s south were forecast.

As the low pressure area now over the Great Lakes moves on out the St. Lawrence tonight, colder air will spread over Ohio and snow flurries are likely tonight mainly north. Lows tonight are expected to be in the upper 20s and 30s. Thursday probably will be partly cloudy and colder.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Mostly cloudy, turning colder tonight with snow flurries mainly north, low in upper 20s north, 30s south. Partly cloudy and colder Thursday.

CENTRAL OHIO — Partly cloudy and colder tonight and Thursday. Low tonight upper 20s to low 30s.

SOUTHEAST OHIO — Partly cloudy and cooler tonight and Thursday. Low tonight 30-35.

NORTHWEST OHIO — Cloudy and turning colder tonight with snow flurries, low in upper 20s and low 30s. Partly cloudy and colder Thursday.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Tonight and Thursday partly cloudy and colder. Low tonight 26-31.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECASTS

Temperatures will average below normal Thursday through Monday with highs in the 30s north to the 40s south and lows in the 20s or 30s. Cold with little day-to-day temperature change. Precipitation will total about .5 inch as showers south and snow flurries north, mostly during the daytime.

Huron, Ashtabula Seek Trade Mart

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two Lake Erie port cities have officially entered the race to become the home of a proposed Ohio international trade center.

The cities of Huron and Ashtabula presented their proposals for a trade center Tuesday to Gov. James A. Rhodes' advisory committee which is considering possible sites for the project.

Tuesday's hearings wound up the presentations. The seven-member committee will meet Dec. 19 to select a site.

Strike Talks Stall

CINCINNATI (AP)— Marathon negotiations between opposing sides in the city bus strike, now over three weeks old, continued into the night Tuesday but no new developments were reported.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Dept. of Agri. cash grain prices: No 2 red wheat mostly unchanged 1.27-1.30, mostly 1.28-1.30; No 2 yellow corn mostly unchanged 89-97 per bu, mostly 90-93; No 2 oats mostly unchanged 68-80, mostly 70-74; No 1 soybeans mostly unchanged to 1 higher 2.42-2.49, mostly 2.44-2.48.

Local Mason Honored

Thurman I. Miller, 221 W. Mill St., last week received the jewel of the Award for Meritorious Service of Ohio Scottish Rite Masons.

The presentation was made at the Fall Reunion of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, Valley of Columbus, by John W. Bricker, 33rd degree, Active Member for Ohio and Grand Minister of State of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite.

Miller was elected to receive the award last June by the Ohio Council of Deliberation. One such award is made annually in each of the ten Scottish Rite Valleys of the state. The award entitles Miller to be a life voting member of the Council of Deliberation.

A former mayor of Circleville and safety director, Miller has served as Pickaway County Director of Fraternal Relations Committee of the Scottish Rite for over twenty years.

He has been active for many years in all of the local Masonic bodies, having served as president of Pickaway Lodge No. 23, F & AM, Circleville Chapter No. 20, RAM, Tyrian Council No. 60, R & SM, and Scioto Commandery No. 35, K. T.

Miss Janet Marie Hunt Weds Paul M. Dawson

MR. AND MRS. PAUL M. DAWSON

Miss Janet Marie Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hunt, Tarlton, and Paul M. Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Dawson, Route 1, Circleville, were united in marriage Oct. 14.

The Rev. Donald Cummins performed the double ring ceremony in Tarlton Methodist Church before the altar adorned with vases of white gladioli, mums and greenery, and two seven-branch candelabra.

Organist, Mrs. Dale Fogler, Tarlton, and vocalist, Mrs. Nelson Jones, Circleville presented a program of nuptial music.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a molded bodice and cage silhouette. The skirt swept to chapel length. A seed pearl crown held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a cascade bouquet of white roses and carnations with streamers of white satin ribbon tied with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Lynda Carroll of Lancaster, sister of the bride was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Betty Whitesed of Tarlton, and Mrs. Marilyn Wolfe of Amanda, sisters of the bride. Cynthia Whitesed, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns of winter white crepe with empire waists accented with crimson satin and floating back panels. Their headpieces were crimson net on a leaf base. The junior bridesmaid wore a floor length gown of crimson crepe with the empire waist accented with a white satin back bow. Her headpiece was crimson net on a satin bow.

Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Brenda Rider, assisted by Mrs. Renate Day, both of Circleville.

Mrs. Hunt chose for her daughter's wedding a blue knit dress with white accessories. Mrs. Dawson was attired in a brown knit dress trimmed in blue with brown accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations and baby's breath.

A reception in the basement of the church immediately followed the ceremony. The four tiered wedding cake was decorated with red roses and topped by the traditional miniature bride and groom. Red and white pompon mums, dahlias and greenery surrounded the base of the cake.

Hostesses were Mrs. Chester Boltz, aunt of the bride, from Wadsworth, who also baked and decorated the wedding cake; Mrs. Thomas Gill of Lancaster, and Mrs. Albert Spangler of Tarlton, presided at the punch bowl; Mrs. Delbert Graves and Mrs. Marion Nixon of Wadsworth.

The bride is a graduate of Logan Elm High School and is presently employed at the local General Electric Co.

Mr. Dawson graduated from Circleville High School and is also employed by General Electric.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Wadsworth, Columbus, Lancaster, Chillicothe, Circleville and Williamsport.

To keep down the foam when cooking dried beans, add a tablespoon of butter, margarine or salad (not olive) oil for each cup of the beans.

New Officers Presented to Nurses Assn.

Nominating committee of the Practical Nurses Assn. presented the slate of new officers at the Friday meeting of the group in the home of Mrs. Louise Garner.

Helen Bay, president, conducted the business session. Chaplain, Jean Good presented prayer.

Thelma Smith stated that there are 16 girls from this area who have applied for the Licensed Practical Nursing School. Anyone interested in attending the school may call Mrs. Smith for further information.

New officers presented by Jean Good, Anna Mankey and Betty Smith, the nominating committee are: Frances Evans, president; Charlotte Hill, vice president; Thelma Smith, secretary, and Helen Bay, treasurer.

The December meeting will be the annual Christmas party at the home of Ethel McFarland, with a carry-in dinner. Gifts will be exchanged.

A gift was sent to Mrs. Myrtle Wolf, a patient in Berger Hospital, who is a charter member of the Assn.

An auction sale was conducted. Refreshments were served by Louise Garner and Frances Held.

Engagement Is Announced

MISS THERESA CONNOLLY

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Connolly, 814 S. Court St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Theresa Eileen, to Stanley Michael Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Stevens of Indianapolis, Ind.

Miss Connolly is a graduate of Circleville High School. She is employed by Edgar Webb's Bookkeeping and Tax Service.

Mr. Stevens, also a graduate of Circleville High School, attended Ohio University and is presently employed as an accountant by the National Liquor Corp. in Indianapolis.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Dr. R. Baby Addresses County Historical Society

Dr. Raymond Baby, of Ohio State University, addressed the Pickaway County Historical Society on Thursday evening in St. Philip's Episcopal Church Parish House.

During the business session Mrs. J. B. Work, chairman of the membership committee reported 48 new members this year, two of whom are life members. This brings the membership of the society to 442.

Miss Dhel Renick, director of the museum committee, announced that the Old Bake-House cleared $385.99 during the Pumpkin Show.

Chairman of the building committee, Harford Renick, reported that work on the restoration of the Clarke-May house is progressing well. The footer for the new meeting room has been poured.

Members voted to delete the following paragraph from the constitution, "No officer shall succeed himself after serving two consecutive terms."

President J. L. Haecker, appointed Miss Nellie Oesterle and Charles Will to the nominating committee. The assembly then elected Mrs. Lincoln Mader as the third member of that committee. Mr. Haecker then named the following to the committee for the annual meeting to be held in January, Mrs. Ted Corcoran, Mrs. Tom Renick, Mrs. Robert Adkins, Miss Margaret Mattinson and Mrs. Paul Cromley.

Mrs. D. E. Hickey, chairman of the program committee, introduced Dr. Baby, curator of archeology of the Ohio State Museum. Dr. Baby discussed slides showing the excavations in Pickaway County about 14 years ago.

In 1953 the Niles - Wolford

Mound was Threatened with destruction. This was brought to Dr. Baby's attention by Mack Noggle of Circleville. Dr. Baby and his assistants, many of whom were students, spent a period of about three years excavating in this area.

In his talk Dr. Baby explained his "diggings" telling about the activities of early man in this section. He also reviewed the excavation of Wolford Mound 1, excavated in 1935.

The meeting ended with Dr. Baby answering questions relating to his subject.

Miss Hansford Married to Fred Hartless

MRS. FRED HARTLESS

Miss Martha Ann Hansford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Hansford, Route 1, and Fred Hartless, son of Mrs. Thelma Hartless of Cabin Creek, W. Va., were united in marriage Sept. 30.

The ceremony was performed in Chesapeake, W. Va. with Miss Sandy Gifford as the bridesmaid and Steve Parsons the best man.

The bride is a graduate of Logan Elm High School.

The groom graduated from East Bank High School and is presently employed by Stone and Thomas Co., Charleston, W. Va.

The couple is now residing in Cabin Creek, W. Va.

Miss Janet Marie Hunt Weds Paul M. Dawson

MR. AND MRS. PAUL M. DAWSON

Miss Janet Marie Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hunt, Tarlton, and Paul M. Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Dawson, Route 1, Circleville, were united in marriage Oct. 14.

The Rev. Donald Cummins performed the double ring ceremony in Tarlton Methodist Church before the altar adorned with vases of white gladioli, mums and greenery, and two seven-branch candelabra.

Organist, Mrs. Dale Fogler, Tarlton, and vocalist, Mrs. Nelson Jones, Circleville presented a program of nuptial music.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a molded bodice and cage silhouette. The skirt swept to chapel length. A seed pearl crown held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a cascade bouquet of white roses and carnations with streamers of white satin ribbon tied with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Lynda Carroll of Lancaster, sister of the bride was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Betty Whitesed of Tarlton, and Mrs. Marilyn Wolfe of Amanda, sisters of the bride. Cynthia Whitesed, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The attendants wore floor-length gowns of winter white crepe with empire waists accented with crimson satin and floating back panels. Their headpieces were crimson net on a leaf base. The junior bridesmaid wore a floor length gown of crimson crepe with the empire waist accented with a white satin back bow. Her headpiece was crimson net on a satin bow.

Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Brenda Rider, assisted by Mrs. Renate Day, both of Circleville.

Mrs. Hunt chose for her daughter's wedding a blue knit dress with white accessories. Mrs. Dawson was attired in a brown knit dress trimmed in blue with brown accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations and baby's breath.

A reception in the basement of the church immediately followed the ceremony. The four tiered wedding cake was decorated with red roses and topped by the traditional miniature bride and groom. Red and white pompon mums, dahlias and greenery surrounded the base of the cake.

Hostesses were Mrs. Chester Boltz, aunt of the bride, from Wadsworth, who also baked and decorated the wedding cake; Mrs. Thomas Gill of Lancaster, and Mrs. Albert Spangler of Tarlton, presided at the punch bowl; Mrs. Delbert Graves and Mrs. Marion Nixon of Wadsworth.

The bride is a graduate of Logan Elm High School and is employed at the local General Electric Co.

Mr. Dawson graduated from Circleville High School and is also employed by General Electric.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Wadsworth, Columbus, Lancaster, Chillicothe, Circleville and Williamsport.

New Officers Presented to Nurses Assn.

Nominating committee of the Practical Nurses Assn. presented the slate of new officers at the Friday meeting of the group in the home of Mrs. Louise Garner.

Helen Bay, president, conducted the business session. Chaplain, Jean Good presented prayer.

Thelma Smith stated that there are 16 girls from this area who have applied for the Licensed Practical Nursing School. Anyone interested in attending the school may call Mrs. Smith for further information.

New officers presented by Jean Good, Anna Mankey and Betty Smith, the nominating committee are: Frances Evans, president; Charlotte Hill, vice president; Thelma Smith, secretary, and Helen Bay, treasurer.

The December meeting will be the annual Christmas party at the home of Ethel McFarland, with a carry-in dinner. Gifts will be exchanged.

A gift was sent to Mrs. Myrtle Wolf, a patient in Berger Hospital, who is a charter member of the Assn.

An auction sale was conducted. Refreshments were served by Louise Garner and Frances Held.

Engagement Is Announced

MISS THERESA CONNOLLY

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Connolly, 814 S. Court St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Theresa Eileen, to Stanley Michael Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Stevens of Indianapolis, Ind.

Miss Connolly is a graduate of Circleville High School. She is employed by Edgar Webb's Bookkeeping and Tax Service.

Mr. Stevens, also a graduate of Circleville High School, attended Ohio University and is presently employed as an accountant by the National Liquor Corp. in Indianapolis.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Dr. R. Baby Addresses County Historical Society

Dr. Raymond Baby, of Ohio State University, addressed the Pickaway County Historical Society on Thursday evening in St. Philip's Episcopal Church Parish House.

During the business session Mrs. J. B. Work, chairman of the membership committee reported 48 new members this year, two of whom are life members. This brings the membership of the society to 442.

Miss Dhel Renick, director of the museum committee, announced that the Old Bake-House cleared $385.99 during the Pumpkin Show.

Chairman of the building committee, Harford Renick, reported that work on the restoration of the Clarke-May house is progressing well. The footer for the new meeting room has been poured.

Members voted to delete the following paragraph from the constitution, "No officer shall succeed himself after serving two consecutive terms."

President J. L. Haecker, appointed Miss Nellie Oesterle and Charles Will to the nominating committee. The assembly then elected Mrs. Lincoln Mader as the third member of that committee. Mr. Haecker then named the following to the committee for the annual meeting to be held in January, Mrs. Ted Corcoran, Mrs. Tom Renick, Mrs. Robert Adkins, Miss Margaret Mattinson and Mrs. Paul Cromley.

Mrs. D. E. Hickey, chairman of the program committee, introduced Dr. Baby, curator of archeology of the Ohio State Museum. Dr. Baby discussed slides showing the excavations in Pickaway County about 14 years ago.

In 1953 the Niles - Wolford

Mound was Threatened with destruction. This was brought to Dr. Baby's attention by Mack Noggle of Circleville. Dr. Baby and his assistants, many of whom were students, spent a period of about three years excavating in this area.

In his talk Dr. Baby explained his "diggings" telling about the activities of early man in this section. He also reviewed the excavation of Wolford Mound 1, excavated in 1935.

The meeting ended with Dr. Baby answering questions relating to his subject.

Miss Hansford Married to Fred Hartless

MRS. FRED HARTLESS

Miss Martha Ann Hansford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Hansford, Route 1, and Fred Hartless, son of Mrs. Thelma Hartless of Cabin Creek, W. Va., were united in marriage Sept. 30.

The ceremony was performed in Chesapeake, W. Va. with Miss Sandy Gifford as the bridesmaid and Steve Parsons the best man.

The bride is a graduate of Logan Elm High School. The groom graduated from East Bank High School and is presently employed by Stone and Thomas Co., Charleston, W. Va.

The couple is now residing in Cabin Creek, W. Va.

Eyewitness Tales of Battle for Hill 875

By PETER ARNETT
Associated Press Writer
HILL 875, Vietnam (AP) — Hour after hour of battle gave the living and the dead the same gray pallor on Hill 875. At times the only way to tell them apart was to watch when the enemy mortars crashed in on the exhausted American paratroopers.

The living rushed unashamedly to the tiny bunkers dug into the red clay.

The wounded squirmed toward the shelter of trees blasted to the ground.

The dead—dropped up in bunkers or face down in the dust—didn't move.

Since Sunday the most brutal fighting of the Vietnam war has ebbed and flowed across this remote hill in the western sector of the Dak To battleground. The 2nd Battalion of the 173rd Air borne Brigade went up 875 first. It nearly died.

Of the 16 officers who led the men across the ridgeline Sunday, eight were killed and the other eight wounded. Eleven of the 13 medics died.

The battalion took its first casualties at midday Sunday as it crested Hill 875, one of the hundreds of knolls that dot the ridges in the Dak To fighting region near the Cambodian-Lao border.

All weekend as the paratroopers moved along the jungle hills enemy base camps were uncovered. The biggest was on 875 and D Company lost several men in the first encounter with the bunkers.

A Company moved back down the hill to cut a landing zone and was chopped to pieces by a North Vietnamese flanking attack.

The remnants fled back to the crest of the hill while a paratrooper propped his gun on the trail and kept firing at the advancing enemy, ignoring orders to retreat with the others.

"You can keep gunning them down, but sooner or later when there is enough of them they'll get to you," said Pfc. James Kelly of Fort Myers, Fla., who saw the machine gunner go down after killing about 17 North Vietnamese.

D Company, hearing the roar of battle below it, returned to the crest of the hill and established a 50-yard perimeter "because we figures we were surrounded by a regiment," one officer said.

As the battalion was regrouping late in the afternoon for another crack at the bunker system, one of the American planes striking at the nearby enemy dropped a 500-pound bomb too soon. About 30 of the paratroopers were killed.

"A foul play of war," said one survivor bitterly.

From then until a reinforcing battalion arrived the following night, the paratroopers on the hill dug in desperately. Only one medic was able to work on the many wounded, and the enemy kept driving off the rescue helicopters.

The relief battalion made it into the tiny perimeter on 875 Monday night. In the moonlight bodies of the dead lay spreadeagled across the ground. The wounded whimpered.

The survivors, hungry and thirsty, rushed up eagerly to get food and water, only to learn that the relief battalion had brought enough supplies for one day only and had already consumed them.

Monday night was sleepless but uneventful. On Tuesday the North Vietnamese struck with renewed fury.

From positions just 100 yards away, they pounded the American perimeter with 82mm mortars. The first rounds slapped in at daybreak, killing three paratroopers in a foxhole and wounding 17 others on the line.

For the rest of the day, the Communists methodically worked over the hill, pumping rounds in five or six at a time, giving new wounds to those who lay bleeding in the open and tearing through bunkers. The pop of the rounds as they left the enemy tubes gave the paratroopers a second or two to dash for cover.

The foxholes got deeper as the day wore on. Foxhole after foxhole took hits. A dog handler and his German shepherd died together. Men joking with you and offering cigarettes writhed on the ground wounded and pleading for water minutes later. There was no water for anyone.

The day's pounding steadily reduced the platoon commanded by 1st Lt. Bryan Macdonough, 25, of Fort Lee, Va. He had started out Sunday with 27 men. He had nine left by noon Tuesday.

"If the Viets keep this up, there'll be none left by evening," he said.

The enemy positions seemed impervious to constant American air strikes. Napalm fireballs exploded on the bunkers 30 yards away. The earth shook with heavy bombs.

"We've tried 750 pounders, napalm and everything else, but air can't do it. It's going to take manpower to get those positions," Macdonough said.

By late afternoon a new landing zone was cut below the hill. The enemy mortars searched for it but the helicopters came in anyway. A line of wounded trudged down the hill and by

Five Points News

There were 79 present at the Five Points Methodist Sunday School Sunday morning. Worship services followed. The new piano was dedicated at the morning service.

Puppy Given Free Voyage: Viet to U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Just short of a year ago Army Spec. 4 Frank A. Coronato bought a mongrel pup for $2.80 from a native boy in Long Binh, Vietnam.

Six months later the black and brown, knee high dog had won the heart of the entire 561st Transportation Corps, with which Coronato served.

The 22-year-old Staten Island soldier was proud of his new friend, whom he called Joe. The pup had earned the title of mascot of the entire 3,000-man outfit.

And earned it he had, living on scraps from the mess hall, even traveling with the troops on dangerous truck convoys through the Vietnamese countryside.

When Coronato ended his Vietnam duty last September he decided he couldn't part with Joe. But it cost $160 to ship the puppy home by air freight and soldiers' salaries being what they are, Coronato did not have the money.

So he asked Capt. George Douglas of the Moore-McCormack line's Robin Hood if he would take Joe to New York. Five minutes of hand-licking and paw-shaking later the pooch had a free trip to the states.

Monday, Joe arrived in his adopted land. As one might expect, he again had won everybody over. Douglas said: "We had a nice doghouse built for him but he didn't spend a night in it. He took to the bridge immediately. He thought he was an officer. And he had the run of the ship. He became the mascot of the whole 44-man crew."

But Joe's heart was true. When he spotted his old buddy Frank he bounded toward him, leaped into his arms and gave the ex-soldier a face-licking that had him reaching for his handkerchief time and again.

Douglas got a farewell hand licking from Joe and told Coronato, now an auto parts salesman, "If you ever want to get rid of him, just let me know."

There were 79 present at the Five Points Methodist Sunday School morning. Worship services followed. The new piano was dedicated at the morning service.

Puppy Given Free Voyage: Viet to U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Just short of a year ago Army Spec. 4 Frank A. Coronato bought a mongrel pup for $2.80 from a native boy in Long Binh, Vietnam.

Six months later the black and brown, knee high dog had won the heart of the entire 561st Transportation Corps, with which Coronato served.

The 22-year-old Staten Island soldier was proud of his new friend, whom he called Joe. The pup had earned the title of mascot of the entire 3,000-man outfit.

And earned it he had, living on scraps from the mess hall, even traveling with the troops on dangerous truck convoys through the Vietnamese countryside.

When Coronato ended his Vietnam duty last September he decided he couldn't part with Joe. But it cost $160 to ship the puppy home by air freight and soldiers' salaries being what they are, Coronato did not have the money.

So he asked Capt. George Douglas of the Moore-McCormack line's Robin Hood if he would take Joe to New York. Five minutes of hand-licking and paw-shaking later the pooch had a free trip to the states.

Monday, Joe arrived in his adopted land. As one might expect, he again had won everybody over. Douglas said: "We had a nice doghouse built for him but he didn't spend a night in it. He took to the bridge immediately. He thought he was an officer. And he had the run of the ship. He became the mascot of the whole 44-man crew."

But Joe's heart was true. When he spotted his old buddy Frank he bounded toward him, leaped into his arms and gave the ex-soldier a face-licking that had him reaching for his handkerchief time and again.

Douglas got a farewell hand licking from Joe and told Coronato, now an auto parts salesman, "If you ever want to get rid of him, just let me know."

U.S. Ready To Field Test New Armored Combat Boot

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Lying About Age Isn't Worth Price

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl 12½ years old, but I don't look it. I haven't started to develop or anything yet and could easily pass for 10 or 11. When I go to a movie I say I am only 11, and get in for 50 cents. If I told the truth I would have to pay $1.75, which would leave me broke for the rest of the month.

When I traveled with my mother last summer I said I was 11 and saved a lot of money on buses and planes. I also stayed in a motel for free.

I go to church and don't believe in cheating. But is this really cheating, Abby? I can't see where it is so wrong.

WONDERING DEAR WONDERING: Yes it is cheating, and it is VERY wrong. Furthermore, when one gets away with seemingly "petty" falsehoods, he is encouraged to try larger ones. That you are "wondering" is a healthy sign that your conscience is bothering you.

Tell yourself (and your mother, who is partly to blame for permitting it) that from this day on you will NOT lie about your age. The relief and inner joy you will get from such a decision cannot be measured in money.

DEAR ABBY: A strange woman called me on the phone and accused me of having an affair with her husband because she found my name and phone number in his wallet.

I didn't even know what she was talking about until she told me where her husband worked. Then I remembered that I had cashed a check at that store a few days before, and the man who cashed it for me took down my address and phone number.

Since I am a very happily married woman with four children and I don't even know this man, what do you think I should do about it?

BURNED UP DEAR BURNED: Did you tell the woman the circumstances? If not, do so. If she doubts you, offer to forward a copy of the canceled check.

And if you ever see her husband again and he so much as looks sideways at you, take it up with the store's management.

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago, we were in some financial difficulty so my husband accepted the offer of an interest-free loan from his father. His father is a wonderful person, but he has his own ideas about things, and it seems that we have to live our lives according to HIS ideas instead of our own. This is upsetting our marriage. Everytime we want to spend a dollar we have to worry about what his parents will think. We aren't children, Abby. In fact, we have children of our own.

Thank heavens, we will soon be free and clear, and when we are, we will never borrow from his father again. I have read where you have advised against borrowing from relatives.

Please keep it up, I wish we hadn't. MADE A MISTAKE DEAR MADE: There are exceptions, of course, but most parents who give interest free loans to their children obligate them in ways other than financial, causing ill will on both sides.

Parents would do their children a greater favor by teaching them to borrow money from a bank to establish good credit.

CONFIDENTIAL TO EARL: Your chances for knowing a woman "like a book" before you marry her are much better if you can get a first edition

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army soon will field test in Vietnam a new armored boot designed to save infantrymen from crippling wounds inflicted by Communist land mines.

Mines and booby traps have caused a higher proportion of American deaths and wounds in this war than in World War II and Korea.

Some 800 pairs of a new blast-protective tropical combat boot will be sent for field evaluation to Army and Marine troops in South Vietnam.

Another 100 pairs will go to soldiers patrolling the truce line in Korea, where armed clashes with North Korea infiltrators occur from time to time.

The boot, under development for the past four years at Army laboratories, incorporates a stainless steel wedge filled with aluminum honeycomb and covered on top with aluminum plate.

The wedge protects the heel and the arch areas of the foot and has a V-shaped cross section to deflect the blast upward and outward.

The protective shank weighs only seven ounces. Research by Army experts also has led to development of an overboot which was found to increase the potential "save" of the foot from 45 to 90 per cent.

This overboot also guards the bony structure of the lower leg.

According to the latest available statistics, mines and booby traps have accounted for about 9 per cent of the combat deaths in Vietnam. This compares with a 3 per cent rate in World War II and 4 per cent in the Korean War.

Nonfatal wounds attributable to hidden explosive devices have been running at the rate of about 13 per cent of all wounds suffered by U.S. troops in Vietnam. A comparable rate in both World War II and Korea was 4 per cent.

Army scientists and technicians are also concentrating on improved body protection for American soldiers and Marines fighting in Vietnam's jungles, mountains and swamplands.

Under development is a bullet-proof body armor that will supplement the standard protective vest worn by infantrymen to shield against grenades and other fragmentation weapons.

This armor will weigh from 19 to 24 pounds.

Lightweight felt body armor vests also are being tested and evaluated in Vietnam by soldiers of the 1st Infantry Division.

This 4½-pound protector is intended to be worn in place of what is now a standard 8½-pound fragmentation protective vest.

The Army's laboratories at Natick, Mass., have come up with special body armor fashioned to save helicopter pilots and crewmen from small arms fire aimed at them from the ground. Some 18,000 such armor items have already been sent to Southeast Asia.

There are three types, aimed at protecting the torso, thighs and legs of helicopter crewmen who have been at the mercy of ground riflemen and machine gunners, particularly while hovering low during the landing of troops or the picking up of wounded in a fire fight.

Draft Call In January Is 34,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today ordered the induction of 34,000 men into the Army in January, the highest draft call in 14 months.

The main reason for the high call, the Pentagon said, is that "the Army is now replacing the relatively large number of draftees originally inducted about two years ago when it was in its initial strength build-up" for the Vietnam war.

The total of 34,000 young men tabbed for induction in January compares with the November 1966 call of 37,600.

It more than doubles the average call this year of slightly more than 16,500.

The biggest monthly draft quota in 1967 totaled 29,000 in August.

The Pentagon said it expects that the average draft calls in the January-June period next year will be at a somewhat higher average level than the last six months of this year, with fluctuations from month to month.

PICKAWAY PTO

During the November meeting a questions and answer session was held concerning the Pickaway Twp. School, the Parent Teacher Organization and ways to improve them.

A panel, consisting of three teachers and three parents, was present to answer and discuss questions submitted. The teachers were Mrs. Terry Barthelmas, Mrs. Vera Miller and Mrs. Norman Wilson, and parents were Mrs. William Hildenbrand, Robert Valentine and Kester McCain. Alfred Gabriel, principal, served as moderator.

Rev. Harry Hill gave devotions. Mrs. James Fosnaugh gave a report from the Ways and Means Committee concerning the Halloween Carnival. It was declared a huge success.

The December meeting will be the Christmas program under the direction of the music instructor, Mrs. Esther Fouts, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

No Guns, But Loudness Pays

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Don't make a move or I'll blow your head off," the bank official yelled at the robbery suspect.

The suspect obeyed. Neither he nor the bank officer had a gun. Police said the assistant bank supervisor, Ronald Richards, chased one of two youths who held up the Security First National Bank branch Monday. They said Richards collared the youth and threatened to shoot.

Officers said the 16-year-old suspect had $575 when Richards caught him.

Police were searching for the other youth. They said neither youth showed a gun during the holdup.

Draft Call In January Is 34,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today ordered the induction of 34,000 men into the Army in January, the highest draft call in 14 months.

The main reason for the high call, the Pentagon said, is that "the Army is now replacing the relatively large number of draftees originally inducted about two years ago when it was in its initial strength build-up" for the Vietnam war.

The total of 34,000 young men tabbed for induction in January compares with the November 1966 call of 37,600.

It more than doubles the average call this year of slightly more than 16,500.

The biggest monthly draft quota in 1967 totaled 29,000 in August.

The Pentagon said it expects that the average draft calls in the January-June period next year will be at a somewhat higher average level than the last six months of this year, with fluctuations from month to month.

PICKAWAY PTO

During the November meeting a questions and answer session was held concerning the Pickaway Twp. School, the Parent Teacher Organization and ways to improve them.

A panel, consisting of three teachers and three parents, was present to answer and discuss questions submitted. The teachers were Mrs. Terry Barthelmas, Mrs. Vera Miller and Mrs. Norman Wilson, and parents were Mrs. William Hildenbrand, Robert Valentine and Kester McCain. Alfred Gabriel, principal, served as moderator.

Rev. Harry Hill gave devotions. Mrs. James Fosnaugh gave a report from the Ways and Means Committee concerning the Halloween Carnival. It was declared a huge success.

The December meeting will be the Christmas program under the direction of the music instructor, Mrs. Esther Fouts, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

No Guns, But Loudness Pays

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Don't make a move or I'll blow your head off," the bank official yelled at the robbery suspect.

The suspect obeyed. Neither he nor the bank officer had a gun.

Police said the assistant bank supervisor, Ronald Richards, chased one of two youths who held up the Security First National Bank branch Monday. They said Richards collared the youth and threatened to shoot.

Officers said the 16-year-old suspect had $575 when Richards caught him.

Police were searching for the other youth. They said neither youth showed a gun during the holdup.

U.S. Ready To Field Test New Armored Combat Boot

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army soon will field test in Vietnam a new armored boot designed to save infantrymen from crippling wounds inflicted by Communist land mines.

Mines and booby traps have caused a higher proportion of American deaths and wounds in this war than in World War II and Korea.

Some 800 pairs of a new blast-protective tropical combat boot will be sent for field evaluation to Army and Marine troops in South Vietnam.

Another 100 pairs will go to soldiers patrolling the truce line in Korea, where armed clashes with North Korea infiltrators occur from time to time.

The boot, under development for the past four years at Army laboratories, incorporates a stainless steel wedge filled with aluminum honeycomb and covered on top with aluminum plate.

The wedge protects the heel and the arch areas of the foot and has a V-shaped cross section to deflect the blast upward and outward.

The protective shank weighs only seven ounces.

Research by Army experts also has led to development of an overboot which was found to increase the potential "save" of the foot from 45 to 90 per cent.

This overboot also guards the bony structure of the lower leg.

According to the latest available statistics, mines and booby traps have accounted for about 9 per cent of the combat deaths in Vietnam. This compares with a 3 per cent rate in World War II and 4 per cent in the Korean War.

Nonfatal wounds attributable to hidden explosive devices have been running at the rate of about 13 per cent of all wounds suffered by U.S. troops in Vietnam. A comparable rate in both World War II and Korea was 4 per cent.

Army scientists and technicians are also concentrating on improved body protection for American soldiers and Marines.

fighting in Vietnam's jungles, mountains and swamplands.

Under development is a bullet-proof body armor that will supplement the standard protective vest worn by infantrymen to shield against grenades and other fragmentation weapons.

This armor will weigh from 19 to 24 pounds.

Lightweight felt body armor vests also are being tested and evaluated in Vietnam by soldiers of the 1st Infantry Division.

This 4½-pound protector is intended to be worn in place of what is now a standard 8½-pound fragmentation protective vest.

The Army's laboratories at Natick, Mass., have come up with special body armor fashioned to save helicopter pilots and crewmen from small arms fire aimed at them from the ground. Some 18,000 such armor items have already been sent to Southeast Asia.

There are three types, aimed at protecting the torso, thighs and legs of helicopter crewmen who have been at the mercy of ground riflemen and machine gunners, particularly while hovering low during the landing of troops or the picking up of wounded in a fire fight.

Constitutional Changes In The Air in Many States

By KENT IMMERMANN
Associated Press Writer

Winds of change are in the air around state capitals this year, and the end result could be some new state constitutions and many more amendments to the basic charters.

State constitutions have come under fire for being antiquated, too wordy or too frequently amended. Many state legislators apparently agree, and constitutional referenda will be held in at least nine states during the next 12 months.

The proposed revisions range from minor amendments affecting only one county to new constitutions.

In several states—where revisions have not been approved by legislatures—there are movements to begin consideration of updating the documents next year.

Voters in Alabama will decide Dec. 5 on 16 constitutional amendments dealing primarily with local issues and state bond issues.

A constitutional convention convenes Dec. 1 in Pennsylvania and the convention's proposals will go to the voters in April's presidential primary. The convention is limited to four issues: taxation and finance, reapportionment, local government and judiciary.

Proposals for constitutional change will be on the ballot in seven states in November 1968. The states are Montana, Michigan, Idaho, New Hampshire, Colorado, Nebraska and Massachusetts.

The Michigan Legislature is in special session to implement provisions of its 3-year-old constitution, and next November voters will decide on a proposal to delete a ban on graduated state and local income taxes.

Massachusetts voters will vote on three proposals approved this year at joint legislative constitutional sessions. They are a graduated income tax, gubernatorial disability and increasing the time allowed a governor to consider enacted bills from five to 10 days.

Colorado residents will vote on an amendment proposing election of a governor and lieutenant governor by a single vote.

The California Constitution Revision Committee is expected to have a proposed revision of about one-third of the constitution ready to put on the ballot in 1968. The committee's revision of the first third of the California constitution was approved by the voters in 1966.

Men's Club Slates Shandells

The Shandells will play at a dance at Monroe School Saturday from 8 to 11 p.m. sponsored by the Monroe Men's Club.

The local rock and roll band auditioned last week for a Columbus television program. In addition, they played for a Sadie Hawkins Dance at Westfall High School.

Monday, they appeared on a Chillicothe closed circuit TV program. Wednesday the active group is to play at the Circleville Youth Canteen.

Members of the group are Steve Gilmore on the organ; Gary Spangler on bass guitar; Steve Dade, vocalist; Bill Gates, lead guitar and Steve Armentrout on the drums.

Delinquent Reservists Get Callups

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, said Tuesday he was reliably informed that more than 30,000 Army reservists are being called back to active duty for up to 12 to 16 months because of failure to fulfill reserve training obligations.

Scores of young men in his community, Vanik said, have been notified their service in Army Reserve control groups have been terminated and they must find a position in a reserve unit or face a recall to active duty.

"Because of the very few reserve components training in the greater Cleveland area," Vanik said, "most of these reservists have the option of joining reserve units either 130 miles away from Cleveland in Leetsdale, Pa., or 195 miles away from Cleveland in Frazier, Mich."

"In either situation, the reservist is called upon to travel either 240 miles to 390 miles each week in order to fulfill his military obligation."

Vanik said that the Ohio National Guard and such units in several other states have worked out a back-to-back training program in which the reservist may make up an entire month's military obligation by serving double training sessions scheduled for one Saturday and Sunday weekend every month.

"If it is valid for the state Guard to operate in this manner, why should members of the United States Army Reserve be denied a comparable opportunity?" Vanik said.

Soviet Jet Liner Proves Show Star At U.S. Airport

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sleek Soviet jet liner has star billing at Dulles International Airport as it undergoes a series of tests aimed at clearing the way for nonstop Moscow to New York air service.

The Aeroflot IL62 touched down at Dulles Monday night and in the floodlit, televised confusion, four newsmen got a sneak preview of the inside of the craft from six pretty Soviet stewardesses.

They said they found the air state—apparently due to a non-operating ventilating system—but otherwise the interior of the plane appeared to measure up to standards of most American passenger jets.

Youth Given Life Sentence

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP)—A 17-year-old youth convicted of first-degree murder last week in the shotgun killing of his mother was sentenced to life imprisonment Tuesday by Carroll County Common Pleas Judge Frank F. Cope. The jury had recommended mercy.

Judge Cope sentenced Donald R. Yoss after overruling a motion for a new trial and a request that Yoss be committed to Lima State Hospital for further tests. The youth's mother, Mrs. Donald E. Yoss, was slain June 30, 1966, in the family home near here.

Petrov, inspector general of Soviet civil aviation, described the visit as 'the first step for the beginning of direct communication between Moscow and New York.'

The flight, Petrov said, brings the Soviet and American capitals to within 11 hours of each other.

Aeroflot and Pan American Airways have applied to the two governments for clearance to begin the direct air service. The two governments have completed negotiations for opening the two routes except for final operating details.

Pan American is sending a team of technicians to Moscow in December to obtain Soviet clearance on the 707-321B which it plans to use on the route.

No visitors were to have boarded the plane until today but in the confusion of arrival the reporters found their way unbarred and their welcome friendly.

The IL62 is designed to carry up to 186 passengers in all-economy class seating. On Monday's flight it was set up with 90 seats in the rear tourist section and 32 first-class seats forward. The sections were separated by a large galley.

Petrov said the plane was 175 feet long and cruises at 560 miles an hour. It has four fan jet engines beneath its tall tail, far to the rear of its swept-back wings. Its take-off weight is reported to be 347,225 pounds and it is capable of ranging up to 5,700 miles with a 50,700-pound payload while flying at altitudes up to 42,600 feet.

'Spanglish' Becomes Latest Thing Among Upper Class

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
Associated Press Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP) — In the verbal billiards of the younger generations, the sound coming off conversational cushions from Buenos Aires to Mexico City is really Spanish—with lots of English.

How would you order a frankfurter in this city? "Un hog do" will get it. Or a box spring for your bed? Just ask for "un box spring."

The Spanish-English potpourri is generally called Spanglish.

Purists, damning "imported Barbarians," deplore the "mongrelization" of the language of Old Castille.

The closer the country to the United States, the more pronounced Spanglish becomes. It seems less apparent below Colombia — Argentina excepted — and strongest in Puerto Rico and along the U.S.-Mexico border.

Carmen Ibanez de Rivas, professor of Spanish at the University of the Americas, notes that some English words, especially the most modern ones, lack adequate Spanish equivalents. Examples: switch, socket and paint thinner. In Spanish they come out phonetically as "swee-chi," "so-ke" and "tin-ner."

"The most influential factor in the proliferation of these expressions," says Mrs. Rivas, "is probably the American tourist."

Spanglish is used by middle and upper classes, Mrs. Rivas believes, especially among those with travel experience aboard. "Many use it to give themselves 'cachet' of social stature," she says.

Spanglish isn't so noticeable among lower classes because most of the terminology involves articles out of their economic reach. In Mexico City,

Holiday Dinner Brawl
Riled First President

By CLARK KINNAIRD
Author of the new book,
"George Washington: The Pictorial Biography."

NEW YORK — George Washington was fed up, in more than one sense, the first time Thanksgiving was observed by presidential proclamation. That was why no official recognition was given by the federal government to this tradition in the five following years.

The general, who had an explosive temper on occasion, was made hopping mad that Thursday, Nov. 26, 1789, by a happening in the then capital city,
New York. He penned a denunciatory note to the secretary of the Treasury and erstwhile friend, Alexander Hamilton, whom he deemed responsible for riotous disturbance of an intended reverent day.

Thirteen days earlier, Washington had returned to New York from the first presidential tour of the Republic—a swing through New England. He was distressed by the reaction to the proclamation of a national day of prayer and thanksgiving.
Thomas Jefferson and other members of his administration had protested that designating a day for religious devotions was "effete and monarchical," and in conflict with the constitutional purpose to separate State and Church.

That Thursday, as noted in Washington's diary, when he went to "St. Paul's Chapel . . .
it was most inclement and stormy . . . few people at church." In research for "George Washington: The Pictorial Biography" (published by Hastings House, New York), I found an account of what happened to make Washington himself stormy.

The President and Mrs. Washington had announced a levee, or reception, following church services, to which all of importance in the government and city were invited. It was a dignified affair with the President in good humor until upset by news brought him from Frances' Tavern. It was the place run by Samuel Fraunces, the Fraunces' Tavern, scene of the "riot" on Thanksgiving Day 1789, as it appeared in the Revolutionary War era—an illustration from "As You Pass By," by Kenneth Dunsmuir. It was changed considerably in aspect during the restoration tourists visit today.

colored man who was Washington's onetime steward — the place where Washington had bid an emotional farewell to principal officers of his Continental Army six years earlier.

Alexander Hamilton, who opposed the Jefferson attitude toward a Thanksgiving Day, had departed from the reverent concept quite definitely. He had arranged for a mid-day Thanksgiving dinner catered by Frances, following a review of New York militia from the steps of the Tavern.

Immediately after the review,
Hamilton took leave—apparently to pay his respects at the households of fellow members of the administration—and was delayed in returning for the dinner. Meanwhile "punch" and other so-called "good cheer" flowed without restraint. A lieutenant of militia (said to have been a St. Clair) got into an argument with an alderman as to whether the lieutenant was sober. To prove he was, the lieutenant hurled a bottle at a target. It went astray, a guest was hit, others splattered, and a general melee set off.

By the time Hamilton returned, Samuel Fraunces' dining rooms were shambles, and few dishes were left in which to serve turkey, cranberries, or anything else to the menu. Hamilton apparently restored a measure of order, but not before word had been carried to the President of the brawl. When Hamilton arrived belatedly at the official reception, Washington's countenance indicated his anger, and Hamilton's expressed regrets — when he got the President aside—did not save him from a dressing-down.

Billy Cannon
Top AP Player

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy Cannon agrees that he's past his peak as a runner but his career as a receiver may finally be getting started.

Cannon had his biggest day as a tight end last Sunday, grabbing six passes—three of them for touchdowns—as the Oakland Raiders overcame an early Miami edge and whipped the Dolphins 31-17.

The performance made Cannon The Associated Press choice as American Football League Offensive Player of the Week.

"A football player reaches his speed peak as a senior in college," says Cannon, who won the Heisman Trophy and was the subject of a bitter court battle between the American and National leagues in his last year at Louisiana State.

Holiday Dinner Brawl Riled First President

By CLARK KINNAIRD
Author of the new book,
"George Washington: The Pictorial Biography."

NEW YORK — George Wash- ington was fed up, in more than one sense, the first time Thanks- giving was observed by presi- dential proclamation. That was why no official recognition was given by the federal govern- ment to this tradition in the five following years.

The general, who had an ex- plosive temper on occasion, was made hopping mad that Thurs- day, Nov. 26, 1789, by a hap- pening in the then capital city, New York. He penned a denun- ciatory note to the secretary of the Treasury and erstwhile friend, Alexander Hamilton, whom he deemed responsible for riotous disturbance of an in- tended reverent day.

Thirteen days earlier, Wash- ington had returned to New York from the first presidential tour of the Republic—a swing through New England. He was distressed by the reaction to the proclamation of a national day of prayer and thanksgiving. Thomas Jefferson and other members of his administration had protested that designating a day for religious devotion was "effete and monarchial," and in conflict with the constitutional purpose to separate State and Church.

That Thursday, as noted in Washington's diary, when he went to "St. Paul's Chapel . . . it was most inclement and stormy . . . few people at church." In research for "George Washington: The Pictorial Biography" (published by Hastings House, New York), I found an account of what hap- pened to make Washington him- self stormy.

The President and Mrs. Wash- ington had announced a levee, or reception, following church services, to which all of impor- tance in the government and city were invited. It was a dig- nified affair with the President in good humor until upset by news brought him from Fraun- ces' Tavern. It was the place run by Samuel Fraunces, the

Billy Cannon Top AP Player

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy Cannon agrees that he's past his peak as a runner but his career as a receiver may finally be getting started.

Cannon had his biggest day as a tight end last Sunday, grab- bing six passes—three of them for touchdowns—as the Oakland Raiders overcame an early Mi- ami edge and whipped the Dol- phins 31-17.

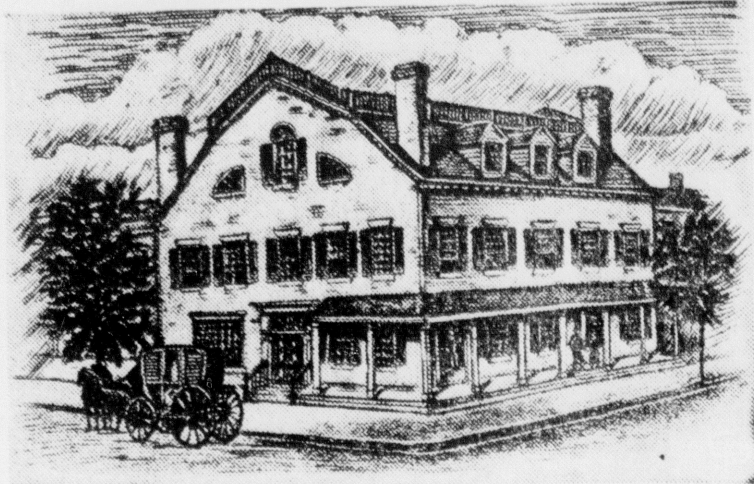

The performance made Can- non The Associated Press' choice as American Football League Offensive Player of the Week.

"A football player reaches his speed peak as a senior in col- lege," says Cannon, who won the Heisman Trophy and was the subject of a bitter court bat- tle between the American and National leagues in his last year at Louisiana State.

Kelly To Join 1,000 Yard Club

NEW YORK (AP) — With four games to go, Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns appears a cinch to crack the 1,000-yard club for the second straight year.

Kelly, the leading rusher in the National Football League and an odds on choice to suc- ceed Gale Sayers as the league rushing champ, has gained 871 yards in 168 carries, an average of 5.2 yards.

colored man who was Wash- ington's onetime steward — the place where Washington had bid an emotional farewell to prin- cipal officers of his Continental Army six years earlier.

Alexander Hamilton, who op- posed the Jefferson attitude toward a Thanksgiving Day, had departed from the reverent concept quite definitely. He had ar- ranged for a mid-day Thanks- giving dinner catered by Fraun- ces, following a review of New York militia from the steps of the Tavern.

Immediately after the review, Hamilton took leave—apparent- ly to pay his respects at the households of fellow members of the administration—and was de- layed in returning for the din- ner. Meanwhile "punch" and other so-called "good cheer" flowed without restraint. A lieut- enant of militia (said to have been a St. Clair) got into an argument with an alderman as to whether the lieutenant was sober. To prove he was, the lieut- enant hurled a bottle at a tar- get. It went astray, a guest was hit, others splattered, and a gen- eral melee set off.

By the time Hamilton return- ed, Samuel Fraunces' dining rooms were shambles, and few dishes were left in which to serve turkey, cranberries, or anything else to the menu. Ham- iltion apparently restored a measure of order, but not before word had been carried to the President of the brawl. When Hamilton arrived belatedly at the official reception, Wash- ington's countenance indicated his anger, and Hamilton's ex- pressed regrets — when he got the President aside—did not save him from a dressing-down.

Washington was persuaded to restore the custom after a five- year hiatus, and John Adams carried it on officially till the end of his term. Thomas Jef- ferson ignored the occasion throughout his two terms and there were no more presidential proclamations until James Mad- ison felt that the satisfactory ending of the Second War of Independence in 1815, deserved public thanks to the Deity. How- ever observances remained spasmodic, thereafter and were celebrated on different dates in different states, until the Lin- coln and Johnson administra- tion.

Both Washington and Jef- ferson were aware that the Thanks- giving custom had not originat- ed in New England, as popularly believed, but in Virginia.

Incidentally, a turkey cookery recipe originated at Mount Vernon for General Washington required braising with a sauce of Spanish wine, Jamaica rum, and spices. (Exact variety of wine unspecified). A Wash- ington guest there, Prince de Bro- glie, recorded that "at desserts he eats an enormous quantity of nuts, and when the conversa- tion is entertaining he keeps eating through a couple of . . . from time to time giving sundry healths, according to the English and American custom." Hazel nuts and black wal- nuts were taken to Washington's residence by the barrel, as was Madeira wine.

John Williams Top Lineman

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who's John Williams?

He's this week's Associated Press college football Lineman of the Week, and Indiana knows why.

"He's just a great big, strong bull and a heck of a blocker," Minnesota Coach Murray War- math says of his 6-foot-3, 255- pound right tackle, who suffers from that job hazard of offen- sive interior linemen—anonym- ity.

Minnesota ran 35 plays over Williams and tight end Charlie Sanders for 122 yards and quar- terback Curt Wilson scored three of his four touchdowns over Williams' tackle slot last Saturday when the Gophers handed Indiana its first loss of the season, 33-7.

Wade and Elzey Win MAC Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Miami fullback Don Wade and linebacker Paul Elzey of To- ledo are the Mid-American Con- ference Back and Lineman of the Week.

Wade, a 6-foot-1 sophomore from Huntington, W. Va., car- ried the ball 34 times for 133 yards in leading Miami over Cincinnati 27-14. He also scored three touchdowns.

Elzey, a 6-3, 230-pound senior from Toledo, earned the ac- colade for his solid perfor- mance in Toledo's 21-7 de- cision over Dayton. He was credited with 13 solo stops and assisting on nine other tackles.

Carew Chosen Rookie of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Rod Carew, the fleet Panamanian who made the American League All-Star team halfway through his initial big league season, became the first second base- man ever to win the circuit's Rookie-of-the-Year award to- day. He missed by a single vote of being a unanimous choice.

Carew received 19 votes in the balloting by 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Outfielder Reggie Smith of the pennant-winning Boston Red Sox was named on one ballot.

Tigers Open Cage Season At Westfall High Friday

With Circleville High School's first basketball game just two days off, Tiger coach Chuck Hill is still searching for a starting unit.

Dave Horst, Jeff Steele, Rick Congrove and Gene Dyke have earned berths on the squad. But the fifth spot is still open according to Hill and could be filled by any one of four or five boys.

Horst and Congrove will be the Tiger guards. Dyke, a 6-4 cager, and Steele, at 6-1, form a part of the forward wall.

Among the contenders for the fifth spot are Mark Downing, Phil Diehl, Dave Hopkins, Tom Yeatts, Mike Neal and Mike Young.

Hill indicated there is a possibility that before the end of the season, one or two sophomores could be moved up from the reserve squad to the varsity.

In the opened Friday at Westfall, the Tigers will face a veteran squad. The Mustangs have four starters back from last year's team.

Those starters are Ed Cornwell, a 6-1 junior; Tony Lightle, a 6-3 junior, and Charles Palmer, a 6-1 senior.

THE returning guard is Andy Hamman, a 6-0 senior.

Other leading contenders are Robert Barnes, Gene Carfrey, Bob Oesterle, Jim Lett, all juniors, and seniors Denny Fletcher, Charles Ward, Ronnie Ward and Jeff Tomlinson.

Under new head coach Paul Hoskins, the Mustangs are expected to be one of the top cage quintets in the area. Most of the coaches in the Scioto Valley Conference have picked them as favorites in the league.

CHILICOTHE will also provide a tough test for the Tigers on Saturday night.

The Cavaliers' 6-5 center, Greg Jurcisin, broke his left wrist in the first minutes of practice and will miss the initial part of the season.

Richard Seekatz, a 6-2 senior, will probably get the nod to start at center for the Chillicothe squad. He averaged 11.2 points a game for Chillicothe last year. Top forwards in practice thus far are Dave Stone, a 6-2 jumping jack who has been concentrating in improving his shooting ability, and Jack Ber-no, a 6-0 junior from the football squad.

Don Sullivan, 5-8 and Ron Brooks, 5-11 both seniors, have appeared to have nailed down the guard spots for Corky Miller's cagers.

According to cage observers at Chillicothe, the team has been impressive in scrimmages this year.

Following this weekend's road schedule, Chillicothe will host Wilmington Dec. 1 in the opening of the South Central Ohio League and Grandview Dec. 2 in a non-league tilt.

beaten John Unitas and friends in nine straight since 1962, including 41-6 romp Oct. 1, Colts lose Perkins, get back Raymond Berry.

Chicago 14, Green Bay 13 — A real defensive war. Packers just did beat Bears 13-10 Sept. 24 with Jim Grabowski and Elijah Pitts healthy. Bart Starr racked up last Sunday and also Lee Roy Caffey. Jack Concannon bringing Chicago's feeble offense to life.

Minnesota 20, Pittsburgh 14, — Fred Cox's field goals win it for the Vikings in match of two puncheon clubs. In a game like this go along with the underdog.

Philadelphia 35, New York 31 — And it could be 49-48. Loss of Fredrickson blow to Giants. Both teams hurting in defensive backfield and Eagles will be without Gary Ballman, Bob Brown and Mike Ditka. Just the spot for a big day by Timmy Brown. Eagles still have outside chance of catching Cowboys. Giants still hoping at 5-5. Only meeting this year.

Washington 28, Cleveland 24 — Sonny Jurgensen dealing hot hand and Redskins giving him great protection plus big pass rush. Leroy Kelly will run on Skins, who haven't beaten Cleveland in eight straight since 1962. Welcome home Otto Graham.

AFL Houston 21, Boston 17 — Keep your fingers crossed on this one. Oilers have no punch but Pats easy to score on. Don Trull will be out to show up old Oilers mates. Houston still has a shot in East and Boston is out of it. Pats won first meeting 18-7.

Buffalo 21, Miami 14 — First of four in a row on road for Bills, who are finished at home. Bob Griese threw scare into Oakland last week and could upset Bills if they come to enjoy the sunshine. Buffalo won easily 35-13 three weeks ago.

Oakland's Tart ABA Scoring Leader MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Lavern Tart of Oakland strengthened his hold on the scoring lead in the American Basketball Association last week, statistics released today by the league showed.

With 460 points in 16 games, Tart has a 28.8 point-per-game average. Bob Verga of Dallas is second with 25.8 points a game and Connie Hawkins of Pittsburgh was third with 25.1.

College Grid Games Picked By Forecaster

By HAROLD CLAASSEN Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Rushing through the final big weekend of college football so that there will be plenty of dressing left when the job is done.

Last week's average: .731. Seasonal average: .731.

Texas over Texas A&M: The annual Turkey Day football morsel with Super Bill Bradley pulling the Longhorns through despite the Cadets' vaunted rooting.

Notre Dame over Miami: A Friday night display of stars in the Orange Bowl. The incentive will be with the well-rested Hurricanes but Notre Dame has Terry Hanratty, Jim Snow and Kevin Hardy.

Yale over Harvard: There was a time when it was believed that everything in the world stood still while this game was played. You can be sure that Brian Dowling, Yale's quarter back, and the Harvard defenders won't be idle during the game on Saturday.

Tennessee over Kentucky: Another of the traditional games but this time Kentucky's record is tarnished by a lack of victories. Another Saturday game.

Oklahoma over Nebraska: Two of the Midwest's finest linemen, Granville Liggins of the Sooners and Wayne Meylan of the Huskers, tangle in this Thanksgiving Day affair on national TV.

UCLA over Syracuse: Last Saturday the Bruins had their hands full with O. J. Simpson of the Southern Cal Trojans, this Saturday it is Larry Csonka, the truck who runs like a human.

Heavy Grid Schedule Slated

By HAL BOCK Associated Press Sports Writer Oakland limps into Kansas City Thursday for a key American Football League game. And limps is the perfect word for the Raiders' condition.

Oakland, hanging on to a tenuous one-half game lead in the AFL's Western Division, will have to go the rest of the way without ace running back Clem Daniels, who broke his ankle in last Sunday's 31-17 victory over Miami.

Daniels, who became the AFL's first 5,000-yard career rusher earlier this season, is the league's fourth leading ground gainer with 575 yards.

His was the most serious of three ankle injuries the Raiders suffered against the Dolphins. In other professional football action on Thanksgiving Day, Denver plays at San Diego in the American League while Los Angeles is at Detroit and St. Louis at Dallas in the National League.

On Sunday, Boston plays at Houston and Buffalo visits Miami in the AFL. In the NFL Sunday, Philadelphia is at New York, Cleveland hosts Washington, Minnesota goes to Pittsburgh, New Orleans entertains Atlanta, Green Bay is at Chicago and Baltimore travels to San Francisco.

The Raiders plan to use Pete Banaszak, who has carried the ball just nine times in two seasons, to replace Daniels.

John Hadl, San Diego's quarterback, had his first sub-200 yard day this season against the Chargers but Dick Post made up for the passing slack by gaining 108 yards rushing.

Denver, 2-9, ended a nine-game losing streak with a 21-20 victory over Buffalo last week. Al Denson led the attack by catching seven passes for 102 yards.

Los Angeles, 7-1-2, still hoping to catch unbeaten Baltimore in the NFL's Coastal Division, broke open a tight game with three touchdowns and a field goal in the final quarter and whipped Atlanta 31-3 last week.

Detroit, which hasn't won in three weeks, took a 41-7 pounding from the Colts but showed a good rushing game with 170 yards gained along the ground. It will be tougher for Mel Farr and the other Lion runners against the Rams' strong front four. The Lions are 3-5-2.

Dallas, 7-3, holds a two-game edge in the NFL's Capitol Division but was whipped by Washington 27-20 last Sunday. Craig Morton led a late rally that fell short, hurling two touchdown passes after taking over for Don Meredith in the fourth period.

Hand-Picker Picks Redskins Over Cleveland in NFL

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Because of the four Thanksgiving Day games the old hand-picker is taking a stab earlier this week without a full rundown on all injuries.

Tucker Frederickson and Jim Moran of the New York Giants and Ray Perkins of Baltimore are lost for the year and so is Clem Daniels of Oakland.

The crystal ball calls for upset wins by the Chicago Bears over Green Bay, Washington over Cleveland and Minnesota over Pittsburgh.

An 8-4 Sunday left the season totals at 30-30-9 (32-21-7 in the NFL and 28-9-2 in the AFL) with the end in sight. Let's take another try:

Thursday's Games NFL Los Angeles 17, Detroit 10 — Lions always are tough in that Turkey Day special at home when they start salary drive. But Rams are shooting for the title with a four-game win streak. Last road game for Los Angeles. Detroit pass defense tough but Dick Bass and Les Josephson should roll.

Dallas 21, St. Louis 20 — Who can figure these two clubs? Both are going backwards but Cowboys should win on defense. Jim Bakken could pull it out for Cards if Don Meredith's flipper still is sore. Look for Cards to go to Charley Johnson if Jim Hart runs into interception trouble again.

AFL San Diego 35, Denver 17 — Chargers coming off super effort against Kansas City may suffer letdown but they are at home and did beat Broncos 38-21 earlier. Denvers sky high after snapping nine-game losing streak in Buffalo.

Kansas City 24, Oakland 21 — A real toughie. We were ready to take Raiders until Daniels was hurt. Chiefs really must be smarting with that Super Bowl dough going down the drain. Raiders beat Chiefs 23-21 at Oakland Oct. 1.

Sunday's Games NFL New Orleans 21, Atlanta 14 — Like a game between the A's and Mets. Two newest expansion clubs both have leaky defense, poor pass blocking and ineffective pass rush. Gary Cuozzo should make Al Hirt blow sweet music for Saints' last home game.

Baltimore 31, San Francisco 14 — Some one of these days 49ers are going to wake up and belt somebody but they haven't beaten John Unitas and friends in nine straight since 1962, including 41-6 romp Oct. 1, Colts lose Perkins, get back Raymond Berry.

Chicago 14, Green Bay 13 — A real defensive war. Packers just did beat Bears 13-10 Sept. 24 with Jim Grabowski and Elijah Pitts healthy. Bart Starr racked up last Sunday and also Lee Roy Caffey. Jack Concannon bringing Chicago's feeble offense to life.

Minnesota 20, Pittsburgh 14, — Fred Cox's field goals win it for the Vikings in match of two puncheon clubs. In a game like this go along with the underdog.

Philadelphia 35, New York 31 — And it could be 49-48. Loss of Fredrickson blow to Giants. Both teams hurting in defensive backfield and Eagles will be without Gary Ballman, Bob Brown and Mike Ditka. Just the spot for a big day by Timmy Brown. Eagles still have outside chance of catching Cowboys. Giants still hoping at 5-5. Only meeting this year.

Washington 28, Cleveland 24 — Sonny Jurgensen dealing hot hand and Redskins giving him great protection plus big pass rush. Leroy Kelly will run on Skins, who haven't beaten Cleveland in eight straight since 1962. Welcome home Otto Graham.

AFL Houston 21, Boston 17 — Keep your fingers crossed on this one. Oilers have no punch but Pats easy to score on. Don Trull will be out to show up old Oilers mates. Houston still has a shot in East and Boston is out of it. Pats won first meeting 18-7.

Buffalo 21, Miami 14 — First of four in a row on road for Bills, who are finished at home. Bob Griese threw scare into Oakland last week and could upset Bills if they come to enjoy the sunshine. Buffalo won easily 35-13 three weeks ago.

Oakland's Tart ABA Scoring Leader MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Lavern Tart of Oakland strengthened his hold on the scoring lead in the American Basketball Association last week, statistics released today by the league showed.

With 460 points in 16 games, Tart has a 28.8 point-per-game average. Bob Verga of Dallas is second with 25.8 points a game and Connie Hawkins of Pittsburgh was third with 25.1.

Ashville, Jackson, Scioto, Saltcreek Win Cage Games

Ashville, Jackson and Scioto remained undefeated in Pickaway County Junior High competition while Saltcreek picked up its first league win in games played Tuesday.

Ashville edged Monroe, 27-26; Jackson topped winless Pickaway, 42-17; Scioto rolled over Washington, 41-23; and Saltcreek downed Walnut, 41-34.

Saltcreek held an 11-10 first quarter lead, widened that to a 27-20 mark and halftime and held on to a 31-22 margin at the three quarter mark.

After taking the lead shortly before the first period came to an end, Warriors were never headed by Walnut's Tigers.

STEVE Fischer paced the winners scoring 17 points while Scott Huffer had 13 for the losses.

Ashville, Jackson and Scioto are all undefeated with three wins each.

Pickaway and Washington are winless in three league starts, while Saltcreek, Monroe and Walnut have notched one win and have lost two games.

Tigers Open Cage Season At Westfall High Friday

With Circleville High School's first basketball game just two days off, Tiger coach Chuck Hill is still searching for a starting unit.

Dave Horst, Jeff Steele, Rick Congrove and Gene Dyke have earned berths on the squad. But the fifth spot is still open according to Hill and could be filled by any one of four or five boys.

Horst and Congrove will be the Tiger guards. Dyke, a 6-4 cager, and Steele, at 6-1, form a part of the forward wall.

Among the contenders for the fifth spot are Mark Downing, Phil Diehl, Dave Hopkins, Tom Yeatts, Mike Neal and Mike Young.

HILL indicated there is a possibility that before the end of the season, one or two sophomores could be moved up from the reserve squad to the varsity.

In the opened Friday at Westfall, the Tigers will face a veteran squad. The Mustangs have four starters back from last year's team.

Those starters are Ed Cornwell, a 6-1 junior; Tony Lightle, a 6-3 junior, and Charles Palmer, a 6-1 senior.

THE returning guard is Andy Hamman, a 6-0 senior.

Other leading contenders are Robert Barnes, Gene Carfrey, Bob Oesterle, Jim Lett, all juniors, and seniors Denny Fletcher, Charles Ward, Ronnie Ward and Jeff Tomlinson.

Under new head coach Paul Hoskins, the Mustangs are expected to be one of the top cage quintets in the area. Most of the coaches in the Scioto Valley Conference have picked them as favorites in the league.

CHILICOTHE will also provide a tough test for the Tigers on Saturday night.

The Cavaliers 6-5 center, Greg Jurcisin, broke his left wrist in the first minutes of practice and will miss the initial part of the season.

Richard Seekatz, a 6-2 senior, will probably get the nod to start at center for the Chillicothe squad. He averaged 11.2 points a game for Chillicothe last year. Top forwards in practice thus far are Dave Stone, a 6-2 jumping jack who has been concentrating in improving his shooting ability, and Jack Berino, a 6-0 junior from the football squad.

College Grid Games Picked By Forecaster

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Rushing through the final big weekend of college football so that there will be plenty of dressing left when the job is done.

Last week's average: .731. Seasonal average: .731.

Texas over Texas A&M: The annual Turkey Day football morsel with Super Bill Bradley pulling the Longhorns through despite the Cadets' vaunted rooting.

Notre Dame over Miami: A Friday night display of stars in the Orange Bowl. The incentive will be with the well-rested Hurricanes but Notre Dame has Terry Hanratty, Jim Snow and Kevin Hardy.

Yale over Harvard: There was a time when it was believed that everything in the world stood still while this game was played. You can be sure that Brian Dowling, Yale's quarterback, and the Harvard defenders won't be idle during the game on Saturday.

Tennessee over Kentucky: Another of the traditional games but this time Kentucky's record is tarnished by a lack of victories. Another Saturday game.

Oklahoma over Nebraska: Two of the Midwest's finest linemen, Granville Liggins of the Sooners and Wayne Meylan of the Huskers, tangle in this Thanksgiving Day affair on national TV.

UCLA over Syracuse: Last Saturday the Bruins had their hands full with O. J. Simpson of the Southern Cal Trojans, this Saturday it is Larry Csonka, the truck who runs like a human.

Ashville, Jackson, Scioto, Saltcreek Win Cage Games

Ashville, Jackson and Scioto remained undefeated in Pickaway County Junior High competition while Saltcreek picked up its first league win in games played Tuesday.

Ashville edged Monroe, 27-26; Jackson topped winless Pickaway, 42-17; Scioto rolled over Washington, 41-23; and Saltcreek downed Walnut, 41-34.

Saltcreek held an 11-10 first quarter lead, widened that to 27-20 mark and halftime and held on to a 31-22 margin at the three quarter mark.

After taking the lead shortly before the first period came to an end, Warriors were never headed by Walnut's Tigers.

STEVE Fischer paced the winners scoring 17 points while Scott Huffer had 13 for the losers.

Ashville edged Monroe 27-26 with Charles Worthington scoring eight points. The winning Broncos led 8-4 at the end of the first period, 14-12 and half-time, but trailed 18-22 going in to the final quarter.

Bill Furniss with ten points and Tom Musselman with five paced the losers.

Dave Chaffin scored 11 points for undefeated Scioto while Dale Hamilton scored six for the Washington quintet.

Bruce Beatty paced Jackson's 42-17 decision over Pickaway, pouring 15 points through the hoops.

In games scheduled next Wednesday, Washington hosts Pickaway, Monroe plays at Saltcreek, Walnut travels to Ashville and Scioto meets Jackson on the latter team's floor.

ASHVILLE, Jackson and Scioto are all undefeated with three wins each.

Pickaway and Washington are winless in three league starts, while Saltcreek, Monroe and Walnut have notched one win and have lost two games.

Shooting Range Opens at Tarlton

The Crow Track, a trap shooting range located just north of Tarlton, has opened, scheduling night shooting on Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays beginning at 6 p.m. and a Sunday afternoon card beginning at 1 p.m.

In last Sunday's event, Pat Ditty broke all ten targets in a round to take top honors for the day. John Stevens and Fred Wittich broke nine of ten and Charles Arlege eight of ten.

Winning the card shoots were Bob Caudill, Dano Estel and Darel Estel.

TOKYO (AP) — The Japan Racing Association announced Wednesday it has signed a contract with a French industrialist to import Iron Liege, the winner of the 1957 Kentucky Derby, as a stud stallion.

Heavy Grid Schedule Slated

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Oakland limps into Kansas City Thursday for a key American Football League game. And limps is the perfect word for the Raiders' condition.

Oakland, hanging on to a tenuous one-half game lead in the AFL's Western Division, will have to go the rest of the way without ace running back Clem Daniels, who broke his ankle in last Sunday's 31-17 victory over Miami.

Bulls Lose To Knicks, 125-123

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
First, the Bell struck, then the buzzer sounded, and the hard-luck Chicago Bulls were losers again.

The Bell — New York center Walt Bellamy — sounded the note of defeat for the Bulls for 16th time in 18 games this season when he grabbed a rebound and scored on a layup to put the Knickerbockers ahead 125-123 with two seconds left in the second overtime Tuesday night.

The buzzer confirmed this futile fact when it sounded before Chicago's Barry Clemens could get off a final shot.

In the prelude to the Knicks-Bulls game at New York's Madison Square Garden, the Boston Celtics downed the San Diego Rockets 121-114. Elsewhere in the NBA, Seattle got 47 points from rookie Bob Rule and edged Los Angeles 137-132 and San Francisco 124-98.

Holiday Delays
Booster Meetings
There will be no Circleville Booster Club meetings until Dec. 6 it was announced today by Robert Liston, president.

Daniels, who became the AFL's first 5,000-yard career rusher earlier this season, is the league's fourth leading ground gainer with 575 yards.

His was the most serious of three ankle injuries the Raiders suffered against the Dolphins.

In other professional football action on Thanksgiving Day, Denver plays at San Diego in the American League while Los Angeles is at Detroit and St. Louis at Dallas in the National League.

On Sunday, Boston plays at Houston and Buffalo visits Miami in the AFL. In the NFL Sunday, Philadelphia is at New York, Cleveland hosts Washington, Minnesota goes to Pittsburgh, New Orleans entertains Atlanta, Green Bay is at Chicago and Baltimore travels to San Francisco.

The Raiders plan to use Pete Banaszak, who has carried the ball just nine times in two seasons, to replace Daniels.

John Hadl, San Diego's quarterback, had his first sub-200 yard day this season against the Chargers but Dick Post made up for the passing slack by gaining 108 yards rushing.

Denver, 2-9, ended a nine-game losing streak with a 21-20 victory over Buffalo last week. Al Denson led the attack by catching seven passes for 102 yards.

Los Angeles, 7-1-2, still hoping to catch unbeaten Baltimore in the NFL's Coastal Division, broke open a tight game with three touchdowns and a field goal in the final quarter and whipped Atlanta 31-3 last week.

Detroit, which hasn't won in three weeks, took a 41-7 pounding from the Colts but showed a good rushing game with 170 yards gained along the ground. It will be tougher for Mel Farr and the other Lion runners against the Rams' strong front four. The Lions are 3-5-2.

Dallas, 7-3, holds a two-game edge in the NFL's Capitol Division but was whipped by Washington 27-20 last Sunday. Craig Morton led a late rally that fell short, hurling two touchdown passes after taking over for Don Meredith in the fourth period.

St. Louis, 5-4-1, dropped one-half game back of Cleveland in the Century Division by losing to Chicago 30-3. Jim Hart had five of his passes intercepted by the Bears.

Bucs Beat
Denver, 108-90
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New Orleans has a comfortable margin in the Western Division of the American Basketball Association and its games are getting easier to win all the time.

Tuesday night, the Buccaneers easily beat Denver 108-90, maintaining their 2½-game lead in the West. Larry Brown and James Jones each scored 23 points for the home-town Bucs while Larry Jones led the Denver scoring with 29 points.

In other ABA games Tuesday, Dallas beat Kentucky 112-103, New Jersey took Pittsburgh 114-109 and Minnesota whipped Anaheim 110-101.

Texas and Aggies Eye Cotton Bowl

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Texas-Texas A&M rivalry, almost as traditional in Texas as Thanksgiving, is extra appetizing this year with the Longhorns and Aggies also trying to carve up each other for the Southwest Conference title and a trip to the Cotton Bowl.

The game at College Station, home of the Aggies, shares the feature billing on Thursday's college football schedule with the Oklahoma game at Nebraska where the Sooners try to wrap up the Big Eight crown.

Elsewhere, Villanova plays at Toledo and Virginia Tech and VMI clash at Roanoke.

Colorado, still with an outside chance to tie Oklahoma for the Big Eight championship, accepted a bid to the Bluebonnet Monday.

Oklahoma, fifth ranked in the nation with a 7-1 record, needs a victory over Nebraska or Oklahoma State Dec. 2 to win the crown. The Sooners already have accepted an Orange Bowl bid against Tennessee.

Georgia, which closes against Georgia Tech Saturday, took an invitation Tuesday night to play in the Liberty Bowl with Syracuse, UCLA's opponent Saturday, a rumored opponent.

Florida and Florida State play Saturday for a Gator Bowl bid against Penn State, which finishes against Pittsburgh. Minnesota can win a trip to the Rose Bowl by beating Wisconsin or if Indiana loses to Purdue.

Louisiana State, bound for the Sugar Bowl against Wyoming, ends with Tulane while Tennessee takes on Kentucky before closing Dec. 2 against Vanderbilt. Clemson tries to win the Atlantic Coast Conference title against South Carolina.

In the big game Friday night, Miami of Florida, still entertaining bowl hopes, entertains Notre Dame.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There was an unfortunate pile-up of special programs involving the three major networks Tuesday night, probably by coincidence. Television executives who decide such things usually manage somehow to keep their special programs out of conflict with their rivals.

NBC, it appears, was in the catbird's seat since it came along an hour earlier than the other two with a "two premiere" feature that consisted of two hours jammed with action.

By the time CBS' "Gauguin in Tahiti" and ABC's "One Night Stands" started, the hero and assorted kooks of "The Outsider" on NBC were so snarled in murder, fights and psychedelic drugs that it required herculean strength of character to slip that dial.

"The Outsider" quite obviously followed the lead of last season's "Ironside." Made as a one-shot TV feature, it also served to demonstrate its potential as a future series.

What it actually demonstrated is that the old-fashioned tough, cool private eye may be on his way back to the little screens. Darren McGavin, who may be remembered for the number of beatings he gave and absorbed when playing Mickey Spillane's "Mike Hammer" several seasons back, is playing approximately the same role again. This time his name is David Ross.

In the course of two hours he was garroted, beaten up viciously in several fist fights, knocked out by a dose of chloral hydrate, rendered unconscious by a head blow with a gun butt and almost incinerated in a burning automobile. He was, in fact, staggering manfully under his disabilities and on the verge of collapse during most of the two hours. But he played it cool, man, cool.

The program, pretty routine whodunit stuff, twice wandered up some curious side streets. The camera and sound were deliberately distorted, once to suggest how he felt when the knock-out drops were having their effect, and again to indicate how one of the heavies was making out during an LSD trip. No action show these days, of course, is complete without some reference to hippies and drugs.

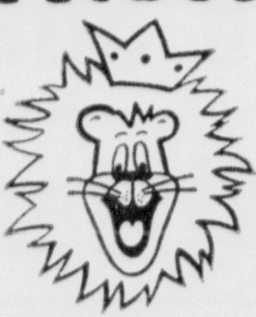

With all the action and violence—and with the probable ratings the show will get against the comparatively quiet competition—"The Outsider" undoubtedly will be a series next season.

"Gauguin in Tahiti" was a handsome, leisurely production highlighted by photography of the French painter's work. Much of the show was filmed on the Pacific island to which he escaped to work, and Sir Michael Redgrave read portions of his letters and journal, serving to further illuminate the character of the artist. It was a show most rewarding to viewers with color sets.

"One Night Stands" followed a small circus, a band and a singer onto the road, showing its rings and its rewards. Primarily it served as a pleasant vehicle on which to serve up some variety entertainment—rarely encountered in the documentary form.

Recommended tonight: "Music Hall," NBC, 9-10 EST, variety show built around the famous "Nashville sound," with Dinah Shore, Eddy Arnold, Ray Charles and Johnny Mercer.

Pound Cut Clouds Picture For British Car Companies

By KIT KINCADE
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Britain's devaluation of the pound has further clouded the already hazy profit picture for the British subsidiaries of American automakers.

Salary Increases Set in Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Legislation passed by City Council and needing only the signature of Mayor Raymond E. Schryver to make it effective would give all elected city officials salary increases ranging from $900 to $4,000 a year, effective Jan. 1. The mayor vetoed legislation last February providing salary increases of $500 to $5,000 a year.

Under the new legislation, the mayor's salary would be raised from $12,000 to $16,000.

Cleveland Banks Hike Interest Rate

CLEVELAND (AP)—An increase in prime lending interest rates to 6 per cent from 5½ per cent was made Tuesday by four major Cleveland banks and others were expected to make similar hikes today.

Announcing the higher interest rates were Cleveland Trust Co., Ohio's biggest bank; Central National Bank, Society National Bank and Union Commerce Bank.

in Britain already threatening auto sales there, automakers will now have to increase their export sales of British-made cars to make up for the money that will be lost in converting the devalued pound to the American dollar, an industry source said.

"The over-all outlook isn't that rosy," the source said. All the Big Three firms have subsidiaries in Britain and other countries. General Motors makes Vauxhall's in Britain. Ford of Britain makes Anglias, Corinas, Zephyrs and Zephyr Zodiacs. Chrysler owns 77 per cent of Rootes Motor Co. in England.

The immediate effect of the pound devaluation, making it worth $2.40 rather than $2.80, is to cut the price of all British export goods by about 14 per cent.

This will give the Big Three's British subsidiaries an edge in competing on the world market.

A source indicated the cut could put British subsidiaries in a better position against Germany's Volkswagen, the No. 1 foreign seller in the United States.

He said the four-door Ford Cortina, a "middle-of-the-line English car," sold for $1,943 in

New York before the currency cut. The car will now sell for about $1,666 in New York. "This is now cheaper than the Volkswagen," he added.

The problem is how many more cars can the British firms sell now that they are cheaper than non-British competitors on the world market.

Can they sell enough to make up for the loss they will take in transferring pounds to U.S. dollars and for the sales they may lose in Britain?

"Profits may well be down," the source said.

Book Cataloging Changed at Library

Cataloging of all new books at the Pickaway County Library is now being done by the state library processing center, it was announced today by Warren C. Cravotta, librarian.

Adult classification will be used. Fiction will be unmarked and field alphabetically by the author's last name and then by title.

Biography will be marked with a "B." Collected biographies will be marked in the 920s. All non-fiction with any prefixes shall be marked.

Story Hour Canceled

There will be no children's story hour at the Pickaway County Library Saturday because of the Thanksgiving holiday. It was announced by Warren Cravotta, librarian.

Elks Initiate Eight Members

Eight candidates were initiated into the Circleville BPO Elks Tuesday during the regular meeting of the lodge.

They were Bert Cook, Donald E. Hite, James K. Marshall, Franklin J. Mace Jr., James Keith Smith, Dwight E. Norris, James S. Mathews, Ronald List. The initiation was preceded by a roast beef dinner.

Deadline Near For CROP Appeal

Mrs. G. H. Niswender, publicity chairman for the CROP appeal in Pickaway County has announced that the campaign will close Nov. 26. All contributions should be sent to Mrs. Clarence Boyer, Route 1, treasurer for this county.

CROP which is the Church World Service Hunger Appeal was begun 20 years ago after World War II as the Christian Rural Overseas Program. During these years CROP has provided food and supplies worth 17½ million dollars and has helped distribute over 70 million dollars worth of government donated commodities.

This campaign is being sponsored by many of the local churches of Circleville and Pickaway County and the Circleville Council of Church Women.

Set Oil Bids

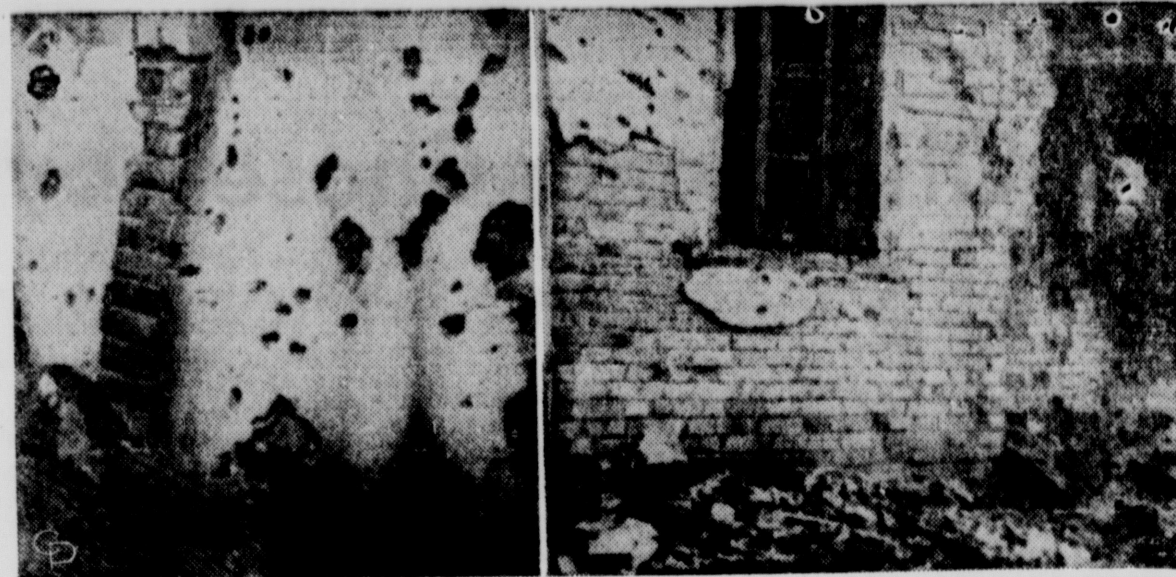

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bids will be taken by the state March 18 for offshore drilling for oil and gas on 350,000 acres of Lake Erie adjacent to Ash-tabula County. The acreage will be leased in an effort to find new sources of income for Ohio. Natural Resources Director Fred E. Morr reported Tuesday.

Revival Scheduled In Haynes Church

The Gospels Quartet will be featured during revival services 7:30 each evening Nov. 26 through Dec. 3, at the Haynes Methodist Church, Route 56, south of Laurelville. The Rev. John Glick, pastor of the church will be in charge of the services. The public is welcome to attend.

Pound Cut Clouds Picture For British Car Companies

By KIT KINCADE
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Britain's devaluation of the pound has further clouded the already hazy profit picture for the British subsidiaries of American automakers.

Salary Increases Set in Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Legislation passed by City Council and needing only the signature of Mayor Raymond E. Schryver to make it effective would give all elected city officials salary increases ranging from $900 to $4,000 a year, effective Jan. 1. The mayor vetoed legislation last February providing salary increases of $500 to $5,000 a year.

Under the new legislation, the mayor's salary would be raised from $12,000 to $16,000.

Cleveland Banks Hike Interest Rate

CLEVELAND (AP)—An increase in prime lending interest rates to 6 per cent from 5½ per cent was made Tuesday by four major Cleveland banks and others were expected to make similar hikes today.

Announcing the higher interest rates were Cleveland Trust Co., Ohio's biggest bank; Central National Bank, Society National Bank and Union Commerce Bank.

in Britain already threatening auto sales there, automakers will now have to increase their export sales of British-made cars to make up for the money that will be lost in converting the devalued pound to the American dollar, an industry source said.

"The over-all outlook isn't that rosy," the source said. All the Big Three firms have subsidiaries in Britain and other countries. General Motors makes Vauxhall's in Britain. Ford of Britain makes Anglias, Corinas, Zephyrs and Zephyr Zodiacs. Chrysler owns 77 per cent of Rootes Motor Co. in England.

The immediate effect of the pound devaluation, making it worth $2.40 rather than $2.80, is to cut the price of all British export goods by about 14 per cent. This will give the Big Three's British subsidiaries an edge in competing on the world market. A source indicated the cut could put British subsidiaries in a better position against Germany's Volkswagen, the No. 1 foreign seller in the United States.

He said the four-door Ford Cortina, a "middle-of-the-line English car," sold for $1,943 in

Deadline Near For CROP Appeal

Mrs. G. H. Niswender, publicity chairman for the CROP appeal in Pickaway County has announced that the campaign will close Nov. 26. All contributions should be sent to Mrs. Clarence Boyer, Route 1, treasurer for this county.

CROP which is the Church World Service Hunger Appeal was begun 20 years ago after World War II as the Christian Rural Overseas Program. During these years CROP has provided food and supplies worth 17½ million dollars and has helped distribute over 70 million dollars worth of government donated commodities.

This campaign is being sponsored by many of the local churches of Circleville and Pickaway County and the Circleville Council of Church Women.

Set Oil Bids

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bids will be taken by the state March 18 for offshore drilling for oil and gas on 350,000 acres of Lake Erie adjacent to Ash-tabula County. The acreage will be leased in an effort to find new sources of income for Ohio. Natural Resources Director Fred E. Morr reported Tuesday.

Book Cataloging Changed at Library

Cataloging of all new books at the Pickaway County Library is now being done by the state library processing center, it was announced today by Warren C. Cravotta, librarian.

Adult classification will be used. Fiction will be unmarked and field alphabetically by the author's last name and then by title.

Biography will be marked with a "B." Collected biographies will be marked in the 920s. All non-fiction with any prefixes shall be marked.

Story Hour Canceled

There will be no children's story hour at the Pickaway County Library Saturday because of the Thanksgiving holiday it was announced by Warren Cravotta, librarian.
